SUMMARY OF THE SERMON, FEBRUARY 20TH

The secret of the Lord, is with them that fear Him. Ps. 25.14.

That there is a secret and a union we are all quite agreed, but few there be that find it. Let us cross out the word fear and replace it by the word love. The exchange of the word gives the scripture a tighter grip: Ps. 91.1. He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High, shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

1st. The secret of the Lord, is the secret of Joy. These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. John 15.11.

2nd. The secret of the Lord, is the secret of Power. For thine is the Kingdom and the Power and the Glory. Matt. 6. 13. For ye shall receive Power after that the Holy Spirit is come upon you. Acts 1. 8.

3rd. The secret of the Lord is the secret of Wisdom. Whether it be Joseph in Egypt or Daniel in Babylon they all alike were endowed with wisdom. No man ever found the secret of the Lord without having added that blessed attainment, the foundation of wisdom.

4th. The secret of the Lord is the secret of Peace. This is a disturbed world. How sweet the world peace sounds. Peace I leave with you, My peace give I unto you, were the parting words of Jesus. John 14. 27. Among many rare paintings owned by John Wanamaker, he selected two and had a special gallery built for them in his Philadelphia store, in this room he often sat for an hour at a time, alone. One of the paintings was Christ before Pilot, the other was Christ on Calvary.

BIBLE STUDY LESSON

February 27

JESUS PRESENTS HIMSELF AS THE MESSIAH

Golden Text: Again the high priest asked him and saith unto him, Art thou the Christ the Son of the Blessed? And Jesus said, I am. Mark 14:61, 62.

Our study of Mark brings us to the time when Jesus rode to Jerusalem on a colt while cheering crowds spread palm leaves and coats before him in the road, as foretold in the prophecy of Zech. 9:9. Jesus did not rebuke the people for this demonstration; rather, he said if they were silent the very stones would cry out. How mortified human beings would be if their spiritual enthusiasms were so curbed and stifled that they must by force of habit remain silent while the stones in the road cried out in honor of the King!

When he came to Jerusalem Jesus drove out the merchants and moneychangers who did a thriving business in the outer court of the temple, especially at the time of the Passover when nearly three million people gather there from all parts of the world. That one man could put a stop to all the hustle and bustle of the market, overthrow tables and force the traders out is a reminder of the authority of Christ. When he willed to clean up the temple His righteous wrath quickly drove the offenders before him. He is not always patient, meek, gentle, as this wicked world will find out.

Christ lives on. If he were dead it would not be necessary for whole nations to try to crush Christianity. What men say about him, whether in glad Hosannas or in taunts and ridicule does not judge him, but determines how they themselves will be forever judged. These events happened long ago but the Son of the living God is still a person with authority. In the light of present conditions the truth and authority of Christ are inescapable. He lives in the hearts of thousands upon thousands bringing truth and peace in the midst of universal strife to those who accept him as their leader.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the Minister, the Ladies Bible Class, the Guild, Friends and Neighbors for the lovely cards, flowers and other kindnesses during my recent illness and accident.

Mrs. Mae Milliken.

Mr. Harmon C. Bostwick, 65 years of age, passed away last Friday at his home, 1033 Howe Rd. Cuyahoga Falls. He is survived by his wife, Florence M., sisters, Mrs. Orpha Beers of Akron; Mrs. Goldie Ballard of Denver, Col.; and Mrs. Cecil Carnahan of Dayton, also several nieces and nephews. Services were conducted Monday at McGowan's Funeral Home, Rev. L. M. Gregory officiating. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. Bostwick, an employee of the Goodrich Rubber Co., resided for a number of years on East Arndale Rd., Stow, having only recently moved to Cuyahoga Falls.

... CHOIR NEWS ...

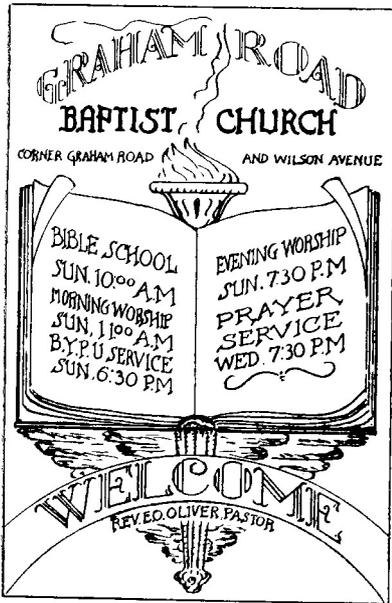

The choir is glad to welcome its new members, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Round, also the return of some of its old members, some of whom are Alberta Shaver, Mrs. Chas. Monteith, Millie Monteith, Evelyn Phelps and Burl Cox.

The new members-to-be who are rehearsing each Thursday evening will be an appreciable annex to the choir in the near future.

It is inspiring to our leader, Mr. Cecil Rearick, to have between thirty and forty out for rehearsal each Thursday evening and then to have almost all of them in their places to sing on Sunday morning.

The lovely duet, "Thanks Be to God," by Jean Olson and Sunya Thayer was enjoyed by all last Sunday morning. This is just the beginning of the showing of the abilities of the younger members of the choir. We are glad these young people are stepping out and showing such interest and talent. Their loyalty and dependability are beyond compare, in fact the choir as a whole feels it just could not do without its younger members. Watch for more of these pleasant surprises in the near future.

Many of the choir, thirty-two to be exact, enjoyed a get-together last Thursday evening after rehearsal at the home of Pearl Cross. Plans for the betterment of the choir in general, both for quantity and quality were discussed and a fine social hour followed.

Anyone wishing to come into the choir is more than welcome. Rehearsals are held on every Thursday evening at 7:30 to 9:00 p. m.

NOTICE!

Probably fifty percent of the letters from service men, other items and advertising, which might have appeared in this week's issue of the Community Church News has been omitted. This is due to physical inability on the part of the linotype operator, the printer and the editor.

Lynn Snyder's class will hold their regular monthly class meeting Saturday evening, Feb. 26, at the home of Donna Rae Davis, Ellsworth Road.

Somewhere in England
Feb. 2, 1944

My Dear Sir:

Once again I take my pen into my hand to create another of the things that civilized people call letters. The main purpose of these things called letters seems to be to leave everybody at home know that you are still alive (whether well or otherwise).

Today, instead of sticking to the usual routine, I think I shall ramble from one subject to another. The question is though, where shall I start???? Guess I will just have to stop and then make a new start. Now is as good a time as any, I guess.

I am stationed in one of the oldest of English towns. It is relative in size to Kent or Ravenna. There are many points of historic interest here, but being a person who doesn't like ancient history, it doesn't bother me too much.

Of course I realize that I will probably never again in my life get to revisit all the places I have been, so have been seeing them mainly so that I may have some tales to tell my grandchildren.

This town boasts of just about the oldest cathedral in England. I must admit that it certainly is something to be proud of. To give you some idea of the size of the cathedral, listen to this.

Last Sunday, the Army of the United States held a service in the cathedral in which both soldiers and civilians participated. There was an estimated 1500 soldiers alone, not counting an equal number, if not more, civilians. The cathedral and its grounds cover about eight acres of land and is completely walled in by a 25-foot wall. The cathedral itself easily covers four acres of land.

The English people here in town are slightly snooty because of their old town and quaint customs and heritages. However, I have met some very nice people whom are living here until after the war is over. They say that this town is the snootiest town in England.

For entertainment, there is the usual routine. The British Y. M. C. A. and a certain tea room in town have dances every evening from 8 p. m.-10:30 p. m. except Sunday. The town has three theatres with mostly new pictures (six months from the States) and a decent seat costs you 2/9. In other words two shillings and nine pence. In American money that adds up to 55c.

The English police force is a very efficient organization. It is a non-political organization. No Bobbie, as they are called, carries a gun. This accounts in part for the low crime rate in England.

If and when my buddy, Dick DuLaney reads this, I have only this to say. I haven't heard from you for at least six months. Dick, I write to you at least once a month. There must be a mixup in the postal service somewhere. Try again and so shall I. This also applies to Dick Rose and Bob Timperman. Well, so long for now.

Cordially,
Pfc. Kenneth L. Meyer

Ed. Note: Thank you for an interesting letter. It has been some little time since we heard directly from you. Yes we are very much concerned about our boys abroad. It is our prayer that all may return safe and sound though that is not our expectation. Even now there are those from Stow who have departed this life on foreign soil or have found a final resting place in the depths of the ocean. So—word regrading your state of being—from you who have been, or are going to be in the midst of invasion and battle, is awaited anxiously. We are glad to know that you are alive and that you have survived thus far. Furthermore, while the battle with all its horror and also the dangers of water transportation of troops are things to be dreaded, to our mind the greatest tragedies of war are the mental, moral and spiritual wrecks that may occur. Too often war and its attending evils sort of “case-hardens” an individual. The young soldier ages prematurely. He is apt to lose an appreciation of the finer spiritual values. All this happens in the formative period of his life, just before, or about the time when he is becoming fixed in his ways. Accordingly, it pleases us to know about anything that has a tendency to boost the spiritual. While we have our doubts about the effective spiritual influence emanating from a great cathedral as compared with a church of more humble construction, for the soldiers who gather there it is at least a step in the right direction. However if the great cathedral tends to make the townspeople even “slightly snooty” I think you will agree that the spiritual influence is not exactly what it should be. Nevertheless, if I were with you I’d certainly visit the “big church”, then, if the members “high hatted” me and I felt the spirit of God was absent, I’d look further for spiritual fellowship. If you had described that cathedral a little more in detail and perchance informed us by whom it was founded, possibly we would have been able to figure your location. From a description of the Salisbury Cathedral we would judge its size or capacity to be about the same as the one that you visited. Or it might be Canterbury, the life of which town is said to center around its cathedral. However, both these towns are more sizeable than the Ohio municipalities which you mention, so maybe the guess is wrong both times.

Well, we’ve said enough. Only one more thing. Write again. Tell us more.

V-MAIL LETTER

From S/Sgt G. W. Dike
35592439
APO 464 c/o P. M.
New York, N. Y. .
Feb. 5, 1944

Dear Friend:

A copy of the C. C. News has been arriving periodically since I was in N. Africa. On many occasions I have reminded myself that I should write to you as others have done. Still it is so very easy to procrastinate where letter writing is concerned. So, finally after many procrastinations, here is the letter. It will not be long, but I do want to express my appreciation for the paper.

It is of great interest to me to read the letters of others from Stow, scattered as they are throughout the world. Although there are probably several Stow men here in Italy at present, I have not, as yet, encountered them.

Many people may envy our travel experiences after this war, but we who have been in Africa, Italy and other odd spots of the world will have proven definitely to ourselves, at least, that the best and finest place for us is a little town in the U. S. A.

I am in Military Intelligence.

Sincerely,

George W. Dike.

Ed. Note: Since the big battles we have been reading about in the daily papers leave us wondering just how the boys from Stow are getting along, any recent word from you is most welcome. Write again.

Dear Mr. Stockman:

I'm still getting the Communitiy

News for which I'm grateful to you and the people of Stow. To continue to get the paper I am sending you my new address.

Through your fine paper I've learned where many of my school mates are and I promise to look some of them up. To those who are near a submarine base anywhere remember the name, (_____), a new sub and I promise to take you below for the best chow you've ever had.

Thank you again.

S. A. Calco, MoMM2/c
c/o Fleet Postmaster
New New, N. Y.

Ed. Note: We are sorry that we cannot publish the name of your sub for we are sure many would like to be taken below for the "best chow" which you mention. The reason for this omission is that the Office of Censorship, Washington, D. C. specifically request, in publishing letters, not to link names of any members of the armed force and the names of ships, except under certain prescribed circumstances. It pleases us to receive your letter and your address will be changed as your request. Write again.

Dear Mr. Stockman:

I guess that its about time that I drop you a line and let you know that I'm still alive and kicking about everything in general. As far as my health's concerned, I am perfectly fit, and raring to go, and it looks like maybe I'll get the chance to go soon.

Since I was commissioned, I have been stationed at this base, here in the middle of the desert, and let me tell you that this part of hte country has very little to offer a fellow in the way of entertainment. It is just a vast wasteland of sand, cactus and sage. Of course the mountains, on either horizon, are very beautiful. In the evening, the mountains turn all colors and shades of blue, brown, purple and red. The sunsets are very nice, but as any true Ohioan would say "I'll take Ohio for mine". If I remember right, the sunsets are nice there too. At least, the rivers have WATER in them, instead of just an old dried-up river bed.

My wife, Martha, is here with me now, and we plan for her to stay on until I am transferred on to my next station. It certainly is nice, having her here, but we both miss daughter Marilyn very much. We had to leave her with my folks on Graham Road as conditions here are not good enough to warrant bringing her along. I saw her on my last visit to Stow in January. She was walking then (something new to me, as I hadn't seen her since the first of September) and I imagine she has started talking by now.

I have heard from a lot of the boys overseas the past few months, and I'm expecting a letter any day from Ralph Kutinsky and Paul Grether. Also Herman Sharpnack sent me Holiday Greetings from the Isle of Sicily. I hope we all meet again after this is all over and talk over our experiences together. I think we'll all have a lot to relate.

I want to thank all the folks in Stow for making it possible for us to receive the Community Church News by their contributions and subscriptions. I'm sure all of the fellows read it as thoroughly as I do, and enjoy its messages.

Keep it coming,

Glenn S. Cork 2nd Lt., A.C.
837th Bomb Sq. (H)

AAB, Alamogordo, N. Mex.

Ed. Note: We had been wondering recently if you'd send us a letter again and then along it comes, so, while we'd never given it much thought there must be something in mental telpathy. Then again, maybe there isn't any such thing for we have been thinking about some of the other fellows (and one or two girls in the service we might and may mention some time) and there is not letter—yet. However, "while there is life there is hope", we still hope.

We appreciate your description of the desert. If one looks closely it is MOST GENERALLY possible to find something good in most any-place, or person. However, sometimes one has to look quite close.

Do not wait too long before writing again.

H. J. S.

Rev. Oliver is rendering some wonderful sermons on the Book of Revelation. We are hoping for larger congregations. Everyone is welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. James Favolier of Cleveland, Ohio, were visitors at the W. S. Leasure home this last Sunday afternoon.

Attendance at Bible School the 20th was 72.

Corp. Lacy L. Smars of Circle General Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, a staff car driver, visited his sister-in-law, Mrs. G. C. Hargett Sunday.

Mrs. Shirley Derry of Munroe Falls recently returned home from Clarksville, Tenn., where she has been staying with her husband. He has been sent out on maneuvers and she plans to join him again as soon as he is assigned a new camp.

We are having some splendid times in our Senior B. Y. P. U. meetings now. We have had a considerable increase in attendance. We need you and you need the B.Y. training. We would like to see more out.

Bob Neiswanger left Sunday to go back to his camp in Missouri. He has been granted a five-day extension to his furlough to be with his wife and new baby boy.

FISH CREEK

Mrs. J. Edgar Lowry is slowly recovering from a serious illness caused by flu epidemic.

Correction in last week's Fish Creek News about the Riggs' household: Mrs. Riggs' mother is known as "Grammy Peterson" not Granny—she definitely is not a granny and it was not a "boy wouldn't catch" Mrs. Riggs' because of her busyness in caring for four of their household, ill with flu at same time, but it was the flu bug. The Fish Creek correspondent is sorry her handwriting is so illegible and realizes how careless she is.

Mrs. Emma Stalder Sommer of 4143 W. 48th St., Cleveland, has been guest of her cousins, the Fred Fahrns on East Graham Road following a major operation at Christmas time. Emma spent Saturday afternoon at Ted Brittans recalling the good old days when the Stalders ran the Fish Creek Cheese Factory moving from here about 1905. Early this week Emma visited another Fish Creekite in North Akron, Mrs. Irvin Bond, the former Bertha Spencer, who lived on the old Holdrege farm now run by Glenn France. Mrs. Sommer expects to resume her work at the Kresge 25c to $1.00 store on Euclid

This is NOT ad number three (or is it?), but is being written in answer to Ye Editor's note at the bottom of my "Ad Number Two" on page 7, Vol. XI, No. 3 issued Fri., Jan. 21, 1944. In all fairness to everyone in our Fish Creek neighborhood who as Ye Editor said "have given generously", for each one gave gladly knowing it was not for their renewals but to be used to try to help keep this C. C. News going to all Stowites in the service. Thus honoring those from our immediate community, who now number at least twenty-two and to whom we were trying to extend Fish Creek Christmas Greetings.

Enclosed is another renewal, the second one received recently from ones who never gave me their subscriptions before. I want to thank those who have given me their renewals and to tell the folks even though a Loved One has just been taken to her Heavenly Home we are ready to have anyone stop in anytime to leave their subscription (or just stop in). Everyone seems glad to give their renewals, saying, "I've just been negligent about paying Mr. Stockman." Each one seems to want to help do their bit to keep the paper going and always say what big returns we at-homers are getting out of the Stow Community Church News.

Someone asked if my "face wasn't red" because of the published answer to my Ads, No. 1 and 2, and I said "No, I appreciated the kind, generous comments." So I hope I have not caused any ruddy cheeks, if any are noticeable now, we will just say Old Man Winter did it and not I.
