The Risen Lord and His Disciples

Printed Text John 20:19-23, 26-29;
21:15-17. Golden Text I Cor. 15:20

"But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept." This Golden Text is the conclusion of a series of reasons, why the resurrection of Christ is of such importance to Christians. Just as the first ripe fruit on a tree, which always comes in advance of the main crop, gives definite assurance of the final fruitage, and shows what it will be like, so the resurrection of Jesus Christ, from the dead, is the assurance that the believer in Christ, shall rise also, and shall be like Him, in His glorified body. No portion of scripture should bring more joy or assurance to the child of God. Without the resurrection of Christ, the events preceding it would be meaningless. But praise God, all of His plans are forever sure of fulfillment. They never stop short of completion.

In taking up the study of the printed text, it is well to note briefly the events of the first eighteen verses of this chapter. All of the incidents narrated here, took place on the same day of the week, the first day, which is our Sunday, or the Lord's day.

Mary Magdalene, who came first to the sepulchre, had discovered the stone taken away from the door of the sepulchre. She, evidently, believing that someone had taken His body away, ran to tell the other believers. Meeting Peter and John, she informs them of what she has seen. They, too, then come to the sepulchre, and saw that the body was, indeed, gone. They seem to have examined the tomb rather closely, for what they learned is recorded for us. We should note, especially, the position of the graveclothes, as they found them. A few moments thought will show us that the clothes were in just the same, relative positions as they were when they covered the body of Christ. Though they seemed to have noted these facts, Peter and John "went away again unto their own home." Possibly, they were discouraged. But Mary, even though mystified and broken hearted, still stood without the sepulchre, weeping. Too bad that Peter and John did not, in faith, tarry a while longer. Mary's devotion was rewarded by being the first to greet the risen Lord.

Now this same day, at evening, the disciples were assembled, behind closed doors, for fear of the Jews. Things indeed looked dark. They believed their leader to be dead. In addition, they did not know what turn the activity, of the Jews, might take against them. But in the midst of their fear and trembling, Jesus, himself stands forth in their company. How did He get in? He now has a spirit animated body, which is not subject to the physical limitations, in which our blood animated bodies are held. Neither material, space, nor time could limit this body. Please bear in mind, also that the resurrection body, of every believer, will be "likened unto His glorious body."

How characteristic of Him were those first words, "Peace be unto you." How quickly their sadness and gloom, became gladness, "when they saw the Lord." What a difference the presence of Christ makes, in a life. They were still in the same danger from the hatred of the Jews, but the Lord was there. His presence makes all the difference between gladness and black despair.

After again pronouncing Peace upon the disciples, He commissions them to take up their task. They are to be sent as the Father had sent Him. They are to be the representatives to witness to His physical death, resurrection, and ascension, after they have been empowered by the Holy Spirit.

On the first day of the next week, He again appears to them, in order to remove the doubts of Thomas. Thomas had been slow to believe, but once convinced, his testimony is even more positive, than it had previously been doubtful.

The last portion of the printed text, which is taken from the 21st chapter, is the account of Peter's restoration and commission. Time and space do not permit of a full exposition of these verses. However, two points are at once apparent. Peter had denied his Lord three times. He is made to reaffirm his devotion three times. This is done to be sure that, henceforth, Peter will not be quick to act, in the energy of the flesh. And after having had a close view, of the risen Christ, his own person has dwarfed into nothingness, in comparison. Having been completely humbled, we never again find Peter, boastfully proclaiming the exploits, which he will perform.

We, too, will find nothing, about which to boast, if we but compare ourselves with the perfection of the risen Lord.

"Turn your eyes upon Jesus,
Look full in His wonderful face,
And the things of earth will grow
strangely dim.

In the light of His glory and grace."

ABOUT COMMUNITY CHURCH

Our new pastor, the Rev. Harold Morgan, coming from the Christian Missionary Alliance Church, Kenton, Ohio will be here Sunday April 13th to preach his first sermon as minister of this church. Let all members and friends of the church be present that Sunday to give him a warm welcome.

Due to the blizzard last week making roads impassable the Wednesday evening Prayer and Bible Study was called off. However, this Wednesday by the time you read this, the Lord willing, we will have enjoyed a Prayer and Bible Study service under the leadership of Mr. Wallace. And don't forget to attend the Wednesday evening meeting following this Easter Sunday.

Thursday evening this present week it is our expectation to have united with the Stow Church of Christ in observing the Lord's Supper. Community Church choir it is expected will have furnished the music.

Then this Friday evening, 7:30 P. M. the regular monthly business meeting of Community Church will be held at the church.

Saturday is clean up day. Members of the congregation will congregate at 9:00 A. M. to clean. Two weeks ago the upstairs portion of the church was cleaned. This time its the downstairs. Come equipped to work.

Sunday is Easter. The Bible School convenes at 9:30 A. M. There will be a special program for and by the little folks. Do not miss it.

At 10:40 the choir will present their annual Easter Cantata. As usual we are anticipating some good music. If you are not attending church elsewhere you are invited to come and enjoy this message in music with us.

SUCCESS

The Community Church Sing held last Sunday afternoon was a definite success—at least those present felt that they had enjoyed a treat both from the songs sung, from the Christian fellowship, and from the testimony of Mr. Frank Godfrey, who incidentally told something of his visit to the Holy Land. We feel definitely that these "Sings" to be held monthly in the church for the purpose of glorifying God should be given our hearty cooperation. Truly those present were lifted by such a service.

THE CHURCH IN SILVER LAKE

Final arrangements were made at a meeting last evening by the Board of Deacons of the Church in Silver Lake for the annual Easter Sunrise Service. This service has widespread interest for the people of Silver Lake, Cuyahoga Falls, Stow and surrounding communities who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity to attend Easter Sunrise Services in this beautiful setting so close to their homes.

This service is to be held as usual Easter morning on the shores of Silver Lake. The service begins at 7 A. M. in the park area on the west side of the lake. Those attending may see the sun rise over the lake. Seating accommodations are being provided for all those who attend and the parking facilities are very adequate. This year there will be a loud speaker system in operation under the supervision of and through the courtesy of Mr. Richard Brock of WADC.

Rev. Bradley F. Skinner of the Church in Silver Lake will conduct the service and has chosen as his sermon "The Eternal Power of the Gospel." Rev. Louis Greene of the Cuyahoga Falls Congregational Church will also take part in the service.

Music will be provided by the Senior Choir of the Church under the directorship of Mrs. Bradley F. Skinner.

In case of inclement weather the service will be held at the Silver Lake School House.

STOW D. OF A.

The regular business session of Stow D. of A. on Monday evening, April 7 will be followed by a special party. All members are urged to attend and bring a friend.

The Sewing Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Beulah Fortune on Wednesday April 9 for a covered dish dinner.

P. T. A.

Kent State University's 80 voice a capella choir will be presented in a program of great choral music at the Parent-Teacher Association meeting on Tuesday, April 8 in the high school auditorium. Caro M. Carapetyan, associate professor of music, will direct.

Since the choir was organized by Director Carapetyan in October, 1945 the singers have been heard over many radio stations and have presented programs in churches and auditoriums in several cities throughout the state.

During the business session, election of officers for the coming year will be held.

of Foursquare Churches, Dr. W. L. Koon, present for a service last Sunday. He is from Harrisburg, Pa. and delivered a fine and inspiring message. He will return Saturday P. M. to meet with the board members to discuss plans for the erection of the new church.

An Easter Sunrise Service will be held at 5:30 A. M. Sunday morning. The Tallmadge Foursquare Church will be present. Also, their visiting Evangelist, Rev. and Mrs. Harmon Hicks will be present. They will present special music and Rev. Hicks will deliver the message. A breakfast will be served at Tallmadge for all members and friends of both churches. Dr. W. L. Koon will be present for this early service and for the breakfast.

A name was chosen for the children's session held on Thursday P. M. The name was submitted by Neil Nighman. It is now called "The Y. P. Hour of Learning."

Next Tuesday night at 7:30 P. M. will be the monthly S. S. Teachers Business meeting. All teachers are urged to be present.

We wish to extend our deep appreciation to the members of the Lions Club of Stow who made it possible for some 65 of our boys and girls to attend the Shrine Circus at the Akron Armory.

Our thanks to Mr. Walter Chisman for his concern and interest in making this possible. Also, to the men who helped provide the transportation for the boys and girls.

POSTPONEMENT THANK YOU

Stow Choral Group would like to thank all for the good sportsmanship shown concerning the postponement of the show "Ring The Rafter's" and ask that those holding tickets and those who donated to it be a little more patient and we promise you the show will go on. It was a trying week for everyone and hope each and everyone will go along with us and help us to have a much better show than planned. Word has been received that the date for this show will be April 11th.

LAST WEEK

A Question on Roads

Last week was bad. For us it was flu, toothache, blizzards stalled cars, bad roads, the C. C. News mixed up again by the printer, more snow, more mud, such a road, and by the way, let us get it paved, West Arndale Road we mean. How do we go about getting it done Mr. County Engineer? How much would it cost to have it fixed up like Ritchie Road?

SNOWBOUND

More or less as a matter of historic interest this picture is published as a record of why on Tuesday and Wednesday March 25th and 26th many people in Stow remained at home. This car belongs to G. Marc Stockman and sits in the driveway at 360 West Arndale Rd.

THE SPRING BLIZZARD

It's the last day of March, and the birds were singing outside my window when I woke up this morning, even though the drifts are still high along the garden fence. Soon we'll be planting pine trees down on the Hall Place and looking for hepaticas along the woods road. Yes, it will soon be summer and we'll be outside digging in our gardens in a few weeks, but we'll not soon forget the March blizzard of 1947, with that howling wind the night it struck and the blinding snowstorm the next day. For years we'll use the March blizzard as a milestone for measuring time.

There are a lot of good things about a storm. What a good excuse it was for all the family to stay inside and sit around the open fire! What a good time it was to catch up on your reading! There never was a better topic for friendly neighborly conversation. You have sort of a warm friendly feeling toward all your neighbors as you view their drives drifted shut even as your own. You feel a sympathy for the birds and rabbits and put out a measure of feed for them all. The snow painted some of our finest winter scenes during this blizzard that is just past. When did you ever see the shrubbery and the windows more beautiful?

Now the drifts are melting away slow and easy. I hope it continues to go in the same way. Then it will soak down into the soft ground to do some good instead of rushing off toward the Gulf of Mexico to wash away our soil and flood our valleys. All in all it was a remarkable storm—one we shall remember for a long time. Maybe there wasn't so much snow that fell, as the weather man told us, but at least it was deep enough in spots to satisfy us all.

It's mighty nice, too, to see how the cherry buds are holding back. Maybe we'll have enough cherries and peaches to go around this year. It's hard to believe after last week that April comes in tomorrow and our pines are due to arrive Thursday. Maybe when summer comes this year, it will decide to stay.

WEDDING

Friday, April 11th is the date set for the wedding of Miss Lila-belle Leach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Leach, R. No. 3, Kent, Ohio to George Mullenix, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Mullenix, 2310—11th Street, Akron.

Open church will be observed for the double ring ceremony at 7:30 P. M. at the Church of Christ, Stow, Ohio. Rev. B. A. Bankes will officiate. Immediately following the ceremony a reception will be held at the home of her brother Mr. and Mrs. Victor Leach of Dar-rowville.

The bride-elect has selected her sister, Miss Carolyn Leach of Lima to be her maid of honor. A brother Robert Mullenix will serve as best man. James and Kenneth Mullenix, brothers of the groom are the ushers.

Miss Leach graduated from Stow High School and is employed at Pittsburgh Plate Glass Com-pany, Barberton. An alumnus of Kenmore High School, Mr. Mullenix served in the Army for three years. He is associated with Klages Coal & Ice Co.

WEDDING

HAMILTON-WEYRICK

Sunday, March 16, 1947, 2 P. M.
Stow Church of Christ

In a double ring ceremony before an altar of palms, ferns, candelabra and a basket of var-ious spring flowers centered with calla and Easter lillies, Miss Gladys E. Weyrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Weyrick, 263 Arndale Rd. Stow, Ohio became the bride of William J. Hamilton, Jr. son of William J. Hamilton, Diagonal Rd., Stow, Ohio. Rev. L. M. Gregory pronounced the vows. Given in marriage by her father the bride's gown of white slipper satin featured a fitted bodice—high round neckline, the yoke of illusion bound with a three-inch band of satin creating an off-the-shoulder effect. The long, tight sleeves extended in a point over the wrist and full skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a braided Juliette cap studded with seed pearls. She carried a single orchid atop her Bible, with sweet peas tied into cascading ribbons. Her only jewelry was her pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Mary Jo Woodring, whose own wedding was only a week away, was maid of honor. Her yellow organdy dress had a fitted bodice, high, round neckline with a ruffle creating an off-the-shoulder effect—bishop sleeves and full skirt. She wore a shirred band of yellow organdy in her hair and carried a colonial bouquet of assorted spring flowers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Betty Weyrick, sister of the bride and Miss Bonnie Mueller of Fort Wayne, Indiana. They wore green organdy dresses identical to the maid of honor and carried colonial bouquets of jonquils and pink carnations.

Mr. Harold Hamilton of Stow, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Mr. Robert Hamilton, brother of the groom; Mr. Richard Weyrick, brother of the bride and Mr. Charles Call, all of Stow, Ohio.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception for the wedding guests was held immediately in the church parlors. For receiving guests, the bride's mother chose grey crepe with a fuchsia accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Preceding the wedding, organist Mr. Carl Packer of Cuyahoga Falls presented a half hour recital. Soloist, Miss Florine Reedy of Lakemore, Ohio sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Following a honeymoon in Chicago the young couple will establish a residence in Columbus, Ohio where the groom is a student of Agriculture at Ohio State University. He is affiliated with the Alpha Zeta Fraternity.

WEDDING

SANNER-WOODRING

Sunday, March 23rd, 1947, 4 P. M.

Baskets of white snapdragons and Easter lilies with banks of palms, ferns and candelabra beautifully set off the altar at Stow Community Church for the marriage of Miss Mary Jo Woodring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey M. Woodring, 130 Thorndale Ave. Stow, Ohio to Edward H. Sanner Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sanner, Washington, D. C. Using the double ring ceremony Rev. Leo M. Gregory pronounced the vows. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's dress of candlelight satin featured a fitted bodice; high round neckline—a ruffle creating an off-the-shoulder effect—long, tight sleeves—and full skirt. Her scalloped fingertip veil of illusion was embroidered with roses and held in place with a coronet of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was her pearls—a gift from the groom. She carried a single orchid atop her Bible, with sweetpeas tied into the cascading ribbons. Mrs. William J. Hamilton, Jr. bride of a week, served as matron of honor. Her dress of copen blue faille had a fitted bodice, cap sleeves-ruffle outlining wore a crown of net and faille. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses tied with yellow and cerise satin cascading ribbons. The bridesmaids were Miss Lois Riley of Stow, niece of the bride, and Miss Patricia Meeks also of Stow. They wore gowns identical to the matron of honor and carried colonial bouquets of jonquils and Japanese iris, with cascading cerise ribbons. Serving as best man was Mr. Howard Sanner of Washington, D. C. brother of the groom. Ushers were Mr. Roy Olson of Washington, D. C., Mr. Max Woodring and Mr. Jim Woodring of Akron, Ohio nephews of the bride.

A reception for upwards of two hundred guests followed immediately at the Stow Community Hall. For receiving guests the bride's mother chose navy with navy and pink accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore navy crepe with pink accessories and she had a corsage of pink roses.

Following a honeymoon in the East the young couple will reside at 3111 E. Street, S. E. Washington, D. C. where the groom is employed by the U. S. Navy Gun

Ed Note: Wrting up weddings are not exactly along our line—so credit where credit is due. It was Irene Davis of the Sivad Studio who furnished us with the necessary details and all the fancy words as well as the beautiful pictures, while whoever it is that writes up weddings in the Akron Beacon Journal provided an idea or two as to how to start them out. Then Mrs. Shakespeare, our stenographer, did the rest (editing etc)

Now to tell you something else. The two brides married within a week, we have known for a considerable period of time. Also the grooms. We are glad to see them "hitched" and hope they stay that way for life. While Rev. Gregory gave them some good advice we'd like to add that its a well known fact that life together brings much that is pleasant, also, there will be many trials, heartaches and disappointments and the way you take them depends largely upon the character of both husband and wife. The foundation of character—well, that's a subject for another article.

In these two weddings, the brides were close friends. That's the reason why they were married only a week apart.

Now for a paragraph or two of general remarks and observations on weddings:

Having attended several of these affairs in recent years our impression is that all the wolves are not of the younger generation. Kissing the bride seems to be a favorite pastime and with the older men—they don't stop at the bride, they include the mother-in-laws and all the bridesmaids. And still, this is not all. Hear ye! Hear ye! The grandmothers like it too. Yes they kiss the bride, the groom—and—would you believe it (?)—they have been known to kiss the father-in-laws. Poor neglected father-in-laws. Personally we have never kissed any of the gentler sex except our wife, mother and aunts though now that we are getting along in years—and—and—our wife kissed one of the grooms—so there is no telling, we might start in at the next wedding—if—we can wait that long. Christmas is coming and there is mistletoe—and nowadays some of the girls wear it in their hair.

There is something else about weddings we would like to mention—especially those that take place in Community Church. Most generally there is a crowd—a big crowd—seats all filled, and there is scarcely standing room. Why don't they come to church that way on Sunday morning—Whoop!

We forgot that this was Easter—yes, they come at Easter too.

After the wedding there is most generally a reception. Here the groom, probably for the first time (?) takes the bride in hand and helps her cut the wedding cake—or at least he starts it. Since some friend most generally finishes the job, why this procedure? We have figured it out. Its for the benefit of the photographers.

And that brings up another subject. Pictures! Nowadays its not a real bang up affair unless you have plenty of picture records made of the event. Its a good thing too because if there is any doubt about being married later on—all you need to do it to go back and consult the old family album—or get out the movie projector and there it is—you see it all over again and are reminded that you are married.

Just one more paragraph and we are through.

We have often wondered just how the custom got started of making life as miserable for the bride and groom—just preceding—and just after the wedding. In fact, it seems to be a sort of game they play,—friends (?) try to embarrass the newlyweds, while the newlyweds try to outwit their friends. These two weddings were no exceptions, though as far as we could learn bride and groom in each instance got away without too much damage. In yester-years we have heard of such stunts as throwing the groom in jail—or cutting all the buttons off his trousers just before the ceremony etc etc.

Next wedding please?

FISH CREEK

While others report the March 24 and 25 blizzard of 1947 let us call the roll of some of our fine feathered friends who began arriving long before the blizzard came and lets hope will stay much longer.

Song sparrows, robins, killdeers, woodcocks, blue birds "the dainty more delicate well known birds of happiness", and the redwing black birds, the latter forced to leave their favorite marshland haunts along the creek, came to eat with other birds at their diners which never before had been seen here. (Ed Note: We had black birds on West Arndale too.)

In spite of drifts, or was it because of them, renewals to this splendid Community Church News kept coming in. The foregoing is just the annual announcement that Fern Brittan is still accepting and gladly turning in new subscriptions or renewals. So come one, come all "the more the merrier" for our Good friends, The H. J. Stockmans surely can use the small sums of subscriptions plus much more to keep our local paper coming.

In March 14th edition the latest arrival, James Edward Johnson, was reported, and at that time the news had not been received of a little playmate arriving on Feb. 24th. Yes, a little to the north, another boy came to town and is living in the former Ed Shroyer residence on Fish-Creek Darrowville Rd. He is Vernon Russell Clapp II and his parents, Vernon and Angeline have the upstairs apartment with the Clapp grandparents living downstairs while the Schossler grandparents live nearby.

SCHOOL NOTES

Once again, Stow students are having a vacation. This time the weather may be blamed for it. Many previously stated events which were to come up, have again been cancelled. This includes the senior play tryouts.

Stow's debate team returned from Ravenna last Saturday scoring seven first prizes and a trophy for winning the B title. Those bringing honors to the school were: Edgar Dally, Joyce Burnham, Richard Turner, and Mary Zimmerman. The victories entitled Stow to qualify in the Ohio Speech League Tournaments, which were held in Columbus this week.

The Stow Beta Club members are presenting an Easter chapel at the high school at 9 A. M. Thursday April 3. The high school Glee Club will provide special Easter music. The Rev. Raymond Gaylord, rector of Church of Christ in Ghent, Ohio, and a former graduate of Stow high school, will deliver the Easter message. Members of Beta Club taking special parts and who are conducting the Easter service are Donna Rae Davis, Joan Jones, Kathy Vondrasek and Ruth Capra. Melba Harrington will sing a solo. Parents and friends are invited to attend the service.
