BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday April 13, 1947

THE KINGDOM ESTABLISHED

(Bases of National Greatness)

Printed Text I Sam. 9:1, 2; 11:12, 12; 15:1, 22-26, 34, 35.

Today we begin a study of a series of twelve lessons, on the establishment, and history of the political life, of the nation of Israel.

No other nation had ever been so blessed of God. For over three hundred years, God had ruled His people through judges. He had always kept them from their enemies, as long as they served Him. Even when their disobedience caused Him to allow their enemies to overcome them, temporarily, He raised up leaders to deliver them, just as soon as they repented of their sins. But in spite of all this God given care, Israel was dissatisfied. They wanted a king "like the other nations." Human nature has not changed. We still want the things which we see those about us having, no matter how much better off we are with what we have.

Samuel, the last of the judges, was much distressed by this request of the people. He therefore made it a subject of fervent prayer, to God. But God told him that Israel was in reality rejecting Him, and not Samuel.

The first two verses, of the printed text, give us a description of their first king. He was the type of man the world wants. He was tall and handsome, and of striking appearance. A man who would be quite impressive, leading a royal procession, or at the head of his army.

Saul began his reign in a most praiseworthy manner. He was self effacing and as we see from verses twelve and thirteen, of chapter eleven, he was generous and forgiving, in his attitude toward those who did not share his own political views. We could wish that Saul had continued as he began. But this is not the way of mankind.. Authority and prestige soon began to inflate the ego of Saul.

Not satisfied with being the political ruler, he presumes to intrude into the priests office. This was, and still is, a grievous sin. God has separated the church and state. The church is under the Prince of Peace. The state is under the direction of the prince of this world, who is also "the prince of the power of the air."

Saul realized his sin, but did not fully repent of it. However, God, in love, gave him another chance. There was a certain nation, the Amalekites, which had been a thorn, in the side of the nation of Israel, from the time when God had led them out of Egypt. Although Israel had done nothing hostile toward them, the Amalekites had dealt very treacherously with Israel. God had, therefore, decreed, that when Israel was established in the land, of Palestine, the Amalekites should be utterly destroyed. This meant a complete annihilation, of every living thing, both man and beast. Samuel had relayed this command on to Saul. He in turn had started to carry out the order, but when he saw some fine cattle, he was too easily persuaded, by the people. Instead of completely destroying every person and thing, he spared the best, on the pretext of using the animals for sacrifices, to the Lord. He had also taken Agag, the king, alive and had brought him back with them. Samuel now reproaches Saul for his incomplete fulfillment of God's command. But instead of repentance, for his failure, Saul protests that he has carried out the Lord's command, because of the sacrifices which he has brought. But Samuel now reminds him that the Lord has a greater delight in complete obedience than in any number of sacrifices. Saul now realizes his sin, and begs Samuel to turn again with, because of the people, but Samuel refuses. Sad, indeed, is the end, which we find recorded in verses thirty-four and thirty-five. "And Samuel came no more to see Saul until the day of his death."

Saul learned, too late, that one may not presume upon the mercy of God, indefinitely. From this time forth, difficulties increase for him. Finally, in defeat, he attempts to take his own life, and comes to an inglorious end. What a climax to such an auspicious beginning.

We, too, should take heed. At best we are unprofitable servants. How much more so when we deliberately follow our own wilful ways? "God is not slack concerning His promises." We shall "stand before the judgement seat of Christ" in due time. Let us, therefore, seek to "grow in grace and the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ," that we "may be found of Him in peace, without spot and blameless" at His coming.

O. C. Wallace.

LAST SUNDAY

After preceding days of varied weather which included cold, snow, wind, rain and mud, Sunday — Easter Sunday — though somewhat cool and windy was for much of the day blessed with sunshine. This was an encouragement for those who would attend the various services on that day.

At Community Church a very nice program was presented by children of the Bible School. This was under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Rearick and members of the Primary Department staff. Decorations for the platform and pulpit were as usual provided by Mrs. Cumpson and her class of girls, and as usual they were very nice. To both Mrs. Rearick and Mrs. Cumpson and all others who helped members of Community Church owe a thank you for work well done.

The musical program for the morning worship service as announced in last week's paper was carried out completely. The choir under the direction of Mr. Rearick sang beautifully. To prepare a sacred cantata, such as was presented Sunday, requires much practice and work on the part of those participating. And their only reward is the satisfaction of a job well done, the appreciation of the congregation and the approval of our Lord. As a member of the congregation, all we can say is thank you. We enjoyed the music. And to each member of the Choir we say that you should feel the satisfaction of having done well and as for the Lord's approval each Christian who sings sincere praise unto the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost will have the witness in his own heart.

This coming Sunday it is expected that Rev. Morgan will be in charge of the morning worship service. Furthermore, it will be at this service that members of Community Church will observe the quarterly communion. All should be present. The time is 10:40 a. m.

Prayer meeting and Bible Study will be held this next Wednesday evening in the church basement as usual. All are invited to come and take part.

GUILD

The Ladies Guild will hold their April meeting at the home of Mrs. C. M. Woodring, Thorndale Ave. on Wednesday the sixteenth at 12:00 o'clock noon. Please bring a covered dish and table service. Hostesses are Mrs. Bertha Stein, chairman; Mrs. Lena Osman, Mrs. Wm. Zimmerman and Mrs. William Lawrentz. Mrs. Woodring will have charge of the program.

NOTICE

Tuesday, April 15, at St. John's Episcopal Church in Cuyahoga Falls, the Summit County Annual Homemakers Day will be held from 10:00 to 3:00.

The program will consist of a sound color movie on the preservation of fruits and vegetables by freezing, special musical numbers, skits, music by the Falls High School A Capello choir and an address "Moods for Living" by Dr. DeGraff, head of the Sociology Department of Akron University.

This meeting is open to the public and reservations for the lunch which must be in before noon Friday, April 11 may be made by calling one of the following: Mrs. C. H. Monteith, OV-8978, Mrs. Ralph Somers, OV-3270 or Mrs. C. L. Dike, OV-3156.

Mr. Frank Albert Green

Local historian, a school teacher in his youth, for many years sexton of Stow Cemetery, now a returned traveler from Florida (two week's vacation) here you see Mr. Frank Green in a rather thoughtful mood as he was caught unawares one day last Fall by photographer Ray Hosfield.

It may be said that Mr. Green's avocation is local history, though as everyone who has read his recent article on the Jews (published in the C. C. News March 14th) will realize his interest is more than local. As he says "the general history of mankind" fascinates him. This we believe comes from his genuine liking for people.

Mr. Green was born in 1868. Because he has spent most of his life in Stow, mingling with its tradition and history, and working for its improvement it must be a slight disappointment that he wasn't born here. His parents with complete lack of foresight at the time of his birth were living in Canfield, Ohio where his father was preaching.

His mother, Ellen Stow Green, was a descendant of Joshua Stow, the founder of this township. His father, Reverend Francis M. Green was a Disciple minister, an author, editor and a Representative to the State Legislature.

Frank, who was an only son, was well cared for as a child by his four sisters, Lurie, who became Mrs. Edwin Wetmore of Stow; Fannie who was Mrs. William Cox of Cuyahoga Falls; Mary; and Daisy, Mrs. William Hillyard of Cleveland who is the only one still living.

Report has it that he was a typical preacher's son, but time tempered him and after completing his education at Hiram College and Ohio State University, he taught school in Stow until his deafness made it necessary for him to change his occupation.

For a number of years he lived with and cared for his aged grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stow. He farmed their land on east Graham Road until they died at the respective ages of 99 and 96. They, incidentally lived to celebrate their 75th wedding anniversary.

At one time Frank worked as a metalurgist in Cleveland. In 1910 while working at Silver Lake Park, he met and married Minnie Geddie of Hudson, who is a native of Banbridge, Ireland. After living in Silver Lake for a time, they built their present home at 370 Hudson Road. They have three children, Frances who lives in Cuyahoga Falls; Elizabeth, Mrs. Austin Cowles of Stow; Robert who is living in Chiefland, Florida, and six grandchildren.

Frank's chief vocational interest in the last twenty years has been the care of the Stow cemetery, and its appearance always speaks well for his industry and skill. But he finds time for much reading and writing. History is his forte, and he has written much about local families and places.

His many friends everywhere and his accomplishments are apt proof that it is possible to live a good, full, and useful life in spite of physical handicaps.

"None know him but to love him,
Or name him but to praise."

MR. FRANK NEUGEBAUER

Or should the title be Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neugebauer, for if you look closely you may be able to see Mrs. Neugebauer in the distance. This picture was snapped by the editor one sunny afternoon while taking a walk. It is not hard to guess that the flowers are for sale, though you might not know they are chrysanthemums and—one could believe that Mr. Neugebauer was talking to a prospective customer.

While he is not helping his wife around the home with garden and flowers Mr. Neugebauer works as a water softener expert for one of the railroads (B & O we believe). The Neugebauers have two daughters, one son, and two grandchildren.

When the photographer's daughter gets married you expect something extra in the way of pictures. So here it is: Bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Croxford of Cleveland, obviously just about to cut the wedding cake. They were married last Fall in the Stow Church of Christ. The reception was held at the home of the bride on West Graham Road. Mrs. Croxford was the former Jacquelin Hosfield.

GRAHAM ROAD BAPTIST NOTES

Last Sunday evening the young peoples choir directed by Don Batton gave a splendid Easter program of music and scripture reading. These young people are to be commended for their fine work of art. The program was remarkably arranged and well carried out. They showed real talent. It is good to see them giving their time to the work of the Lord and we predict that these young folks will go far and do much for the Kingdom's advancement.

In the morning service the children of the church were given an opportunity to show their various talents. There was the usual Easter morning attendance, the church auditorium being quite well filled.

This coming Sunday Rev. Rymer and Rev. Don Louersdorf of Copley will exchange pulpits at the morning service.

This week and for a total of ten weeks following prayer meeting will be held at the church on Thursday nights instead of Wednesday evenings as is usual. This is because Rev. Binford of the Arlington St. Baptist Church will conduct a study class on Bible Doctrine following the prayer meeting.

Mr. Wagner, after a long stay in the hospital was able to be back again at church last Sunday. It was good to see him in his accustomed place once again.

PASTURE

Here is a view the like of which you will be able to see soon if the weather breaks and you are in the right spot at the right time. The young man to the left is ex-Sea Bee Roy Davis, who, with one H. J. S., Staff Photographer for the C. C. News, were out walking one Sunday afternoon. They decided that the pasture land along Meadowbrook Creek on the J. C. Hale farm looked inviting. It was not too bad until we tried to cross some swampy land and went in over our shoe tops. The white fence in the distance is along Fish Creek Rd. The cow or two in the distance belongs to Mr. Hale. Thinking to get a story we called Mr. Hale a time or two one evening but his wife said he was out officiating at the birth of a new calf or something of the sort. So—a more complete story may be published some other time.

I. NOBLE

This picture of Mr. Noble, like several others in this issue, was taken by Mr. Ray Hosfield at the sale held one Saturday afternoon last Fall on the Church of Christ lot.

Though a native of Michigan Mr. Noble has resided in Stow and Akron for the past thirty years or more. Formerly working for the B. F. Goodrich for seventeen years Mr. Noble, with his wife, for the past several summers have operated a summer resort and bathing beach at Alto, Michigan sixteen miles out of Grand Rapids. Their cottages, we are informed, are booked up solid for this summer (excepting the last week in August) and have been occupied by practically the same families year after year.

The Nobles are members of the Stow Church of Christ. They have one son, two daughters and four grandchildren.

STOW HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The cast of the annual senior play "Brother Goose" which will be held May 2, was chosen last Thursday. The eleven seniors receiving parts are: Dick Michl, Doree Ernst, Dorea Braucher, Jim Hale, Barbara Foster, Joan Jones, Toni Cummins, Bill Davis, Marilyn Orr, Janet Hoover and Annabel Risinger.

"S" Club held a coed volleyball party after school Thursday, April 3. Team captains are Marilyn Wooley and Virginia Gleason.

Students are glad to welcome Doris Barrett, sophomore, back to Stow High. She has lived in California during the beginning of the school year.

At a banquet held Thursday, April 10, the Stow Chapter of National Honor Society formally initiated the new members taken in the club since the beginning of the school year. Those initiated were: Mary Fairbee, Joan DeGruchy, and Art Morris. Parents attended and entertainment, consisting of group singing and a declamation by Kathy Vondrasek, was provided.

The results of the Summit County senior scholarship test, which was given March 8, have been announced by County Supt. Carl C. Coffeen. Receiving honorable mention from Stow are: Robert William Lyon, John Daniel Mountz, and Mary Ann Yeager.

Six N. F. L. members returned triumphantly from Columbus last Saturday with second place in the state for debate, and two third place honors in dramatic and oratorical declamation.

Mary Zimmerman and Edgar

Dally, and Richard Turner and Joyce Burnham won second place in state for debate. Claude Hubbard placed third in dramatic and Kathy Vondrasek placed third in oratorical.

While in Columbus, the group visited the state capitol building.

Jim Border, junior, and center of the varsity basketball squad, was recently elected to the All-Met team by the Metropolitan League coaches.

It is reported that Jack Marhofer made a trip to Columbus last Saturday. Let's see—this is not the season for football games—neither do we know of any good fishing in Columbus—so—it must have been a big General Motors meeting. They were probably figuring out a way to put a Chevrolet in every family driveway.

FOR SALE: Glisn—a new wonder water softener and cleaner. Fresh Eggs, Dressed Chickens, put in your order by Friday for Saturday. Fresh fruit and vegetables, Honey, Maple syrup and groceries. 1940 Dodge coupe in good condition. Electric range, electric sweeper, electric hot plate. E. Bowen, Corner Graham Rd. and Hudson Drive.

One birthday celebrated at Bible School last Sunday, that of Mr. Ralph Nichols. The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Godfrey's class of young people with one hundred forty percent of the members present. Second, was Mrs. Cumpson's class with an attendance of one hundred twenty seven percent. Third, the Hazel Gillam Bible Class, Mr. Wallace teacher, with one hundred fourteen percent.

Mrs. Franklin H. Kiernan, formerly Miss Geneva Coleman, with her husband, after a three week's visit at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Coleman of Ritchie Rd. Stow, return this next week to their home in Huntington Park, California. Though they have an occasional earthquake out in that state Mrs. Kiernan thinks it is the only place and says we can quote her as saying she would not return to live permanently in the east for either love or money.

To be gone a month, Mrs. Lena Osman of Stow, with sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Ora Siddal of Akron, left on Tuesday of this week for California. They will visit a son of the Siddals in San Diego for a week after which they expect to spend the remainder of the time driving up and down the Pacific Coast seeing the sights. Before leaving Mrs. Osman remarked that this was her first real vacation and she expects to have a good time. That, her friends hope will be the case.

Tuesday afternoon, April 1st, Miss Jeanette Spaght was the guest of honor at a tea given by Mrs. Robert Imhoff, Hudson Road, Stow. Guests were Board members of the Tuesday Musical Club, officers of the Friends of Music and the Stow Music Club. The Guest of Honor was presented with a Mixmaster and a Toastmaster. During the refreshment hour, Mrs. T. K. Seiberling, President of The Friends of Music, poured tea.

The Hazel Gillam Bible Class meet this Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Willard Davis. This class sponsor Scout Troop 167. Mr. Davis who is Scoutmaster for Troop 167 and also president of the class spoke last Sunday merning of the need for three or four good men to act as committee members for this troop. Here is an opportunity for public spirited Christian men to be of service to the younger generation. To our knowledge, besides Mr. Davis, only Mr. Lynn Snyder and Mr. Godfrey are at present assisting with the troop. Incidentally the boys of Troop 167 cleared nearly eighty dollars in the paper drive which they recently conducted.

In a letter to the Editor from Mrs. E. D. Eckroad who before the death of her husband operated the Silver Lake Inn on Kent Rd., now living at 718 Portage Trail, Cuyahoga Falls, says: "I want to tell you how much I enjoyed the letter from St. Petersburg by Mr. Hagat. I spent several weeks at St. Pete this winter and I know about all the places he mentioned and he certainly told the truth about everything, only he did not mention the ball park where only those past 75 years are eligible to play. It is a lovely old folks' town and no matter how old and decrepit one is there are few who look at you, for there are dozens who are even worse off. I think the young people all over the country should go to St. Pete sometime to see what a wonderful place it is for old folks, so they would save money and be able to go there themselves when they are old.

I have heard a story about two people who met on a bench and got married coming north to her home for a year. She thought he surely had some money and so at tax time asked him to help but he refused, so, the next fall she packed his clothes separately and drove to the same bench and told him that that was where they met and was now where they would separate. Not everyone who goes to St. Petersburg plans to get married, there are lots of lovely people there. I called on a man who had lived next to us with his lovely wife and children in Akron when I was a girl. They had moved to N. J. 45 years ago. He is 86 now and for years has been spending six months there every winter. He remembered many things I had forgotten about our old neighborhood and it was a pleasure to see him again. Am going to send that article by Mr. Hagat to the people my daughter and I stayed with as I know they will enjoy hearing about their home town."

BURPEE'S SEEDS GROW

We carry a complete stock and the bulk seeds too. No need to send away and wait for them by mail.

Make use of that ground that will go to waste. Some flowers even on the edge of the garden are nice. Some grass seed for the bare spots or even a new lawn. We will have a nice selection of both vegetable and flower plants very soon now.
