SERMON

UTTERMOST SALVATION

Text—Hebrews 7:25—"Wherefore he is able to save them to the uttermost that comes unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them."

The outstanding word here is uttermost, and it is this nine letter word which describes salvation. The word, uttermost, when translated from the Greek means perfect or complete. Together these words describe the redemption which it is possible to obtain in the Lord Jesus; for throughout the Scriptures we are taught that salvation is a perfect and complete work of grace. In Ephesians 2:8 we read, "For by grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God,—not of works, lest any man should boast." "For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them." Therefore, no man has any right to claim salvation outside of Jesus Christ. Some do claim that by keeping the law and the commandments they are living a righteous life, but this is contrary to the Scriptures, for we read in Acts 4:12, "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved." This Scripture rules out all other means of salvation; therefore, the only true salvation is that offered by the Lord Jesus Christ.

In recent years we have noticed abroad what might be termed a pseudo-Christianity; that is a person who is professing to be a Christian, who knows the language of a Christian, but who in reality has never been, born again by the Spirit of God. The salvation of which our text speaks is a perfect and complete work of grace bestowed only by the Lord Jesus.

We glory in the fact that we have a Savior who is "able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of His glory with exceeding joy."

The question is—how can we have so perfect and complete a salvation? I believe that we have our answer in this chapter of Hebrews. You will recall that in the Old Testament economy the priest was the mediator between the people and Jehovah God. Once a year the priest entered into the Holy of Holies to offer a sacrifice to atone for the sins of the people. While this work of the priests should have been a lasting one, yet it was very temporary, the priests themselves, being subject to death at any time. Therefore in the fullness of time, God sent Jesus Christ, His Son, to become the great High Priest, not subject to eternal death, but having eternal life, a priest who is as the Bible says, "From everlasting to everlasting." And because he continues ever so, He has been able to give to all who would accept it a perfect and complete salvation—for now and for all eternity.

Now note this second thing,—our salvation is perfect and complete because of the perfect righteousness of Jesus. The writer of Hebrews declares that our high priest, Jesus, is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners." It can hardly be appreciated by the finite mind of man the wonder of a Savior who is sinless and undefiled. In order to fully appreciate His holiness we need only to look back to the Old Testament Aaronic priesthood which, in order to obtain atonement for the sins of the people, first had to be cleansed themselves. But in Jesus Christ, we have a high priest who "knew no sin." The fact that He was perfect in every way, a lamb without spot or wrinkle, is another reason why we can enjoy a perfect and complete salvation.

Now let us think of His perfect sacrifice. We read that He died once for our sins. Compare that to the Old Testament where the high priest went in once every year to make the sacrifice for sins. But one day on Golgatha with death upon Him, Jesus lifted up His voice and cried, "It is finished!" He meant that the sacrifice of God's Son completed salvation for all who would accept it. Oh, may we glory in nothing save the Cross, remembering that in the death and resurrection of Christ alone can we be saved to the uttermost.

BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON

GOD IN HIS WORLD

(God's Handiwork)

Printed Text : Job 38:1-7, 16-18, 22, 28, 31, 41.

At the close of our last lesson, we left Job on the "ash heap," outside of the city, where he has been laying his cause before his friends. Their reasonings have been largely erroneous, and so Job has been able to refute their arguments, and his question remains unanswered. But now the Lord speaks to him.

As happens so many times in scripture, we find the answer to a question to be another question. "Who is this that darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge?" This was the answer to Job's question. God does not rebuke him for any other wrong doing, but He does rebuke him for questioning something, of which he has no knowledge, whatsoever.

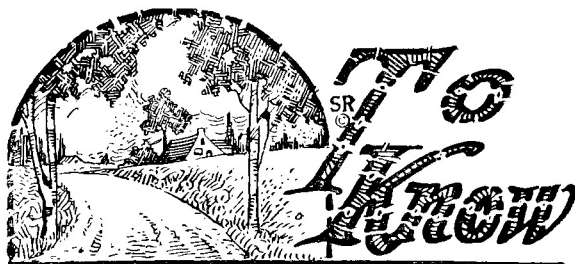

Next, God commands Job to gird up his loins like a man. In other words, God says get set for action. God says He will demand of him, and he shall be ready to answer.

Notice his first question; "where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth?" Job is reminded of his limited life. On what grounds could he, a finite being, question the wisdom and power of the One, who had existed from eternity, and who by His power had formed the universe? Today, we too, hear questionings of God's wisdom and power by those who know infinitely less than Job.

The Lord's next question concerns the division of the earth's surface. Job is asked to explain the limits placed upon the vast bodies of water. He could not answer, nor do we find, in our day, an answer as to why the waters are kept within their limits, except by the power of God. Certain portions of the earth's surface are below the sea level, and yet these lands are not inundated.

Job is next asked what part he played in causing the recurrence of day and night. Can we imagine, for just one moment, what it means to create such mechanism that has never failed to function, exactly on time, in all these thousands of years. Only two exceptions are known and both of these listed in scripture and have been verified by astronomers of our own age. Even today, we adjust our timepieces to agree with the earth's movements in relation to the solar system.

His next question is; "Hast thou entered into the springs of the sea? Or hast thou walked in the search of the depth?" Here, thousands of years before man knew anything about the fresh water springs, which we now know are often found in the various formations and conditions, to be found on the ocean floor. Even today man's knowledge of them is indeed limited. Their expanse, the beauty and grandeur, of these recesses of the ocean, cannot even be conjectured by man. But the Lord knew all about them, and why not, for He put them there.

We want you to know that the reverent customs of the past aided by a modern professional knowledge and improved facilities make ours a service of idealism.

THE MCGOWAN FUNERAL HOME

How small and insignificant anyone should feel at the next question. "Have the gates of death been opened unto thee? or hast thou seen the doors of the shadow of death?" No doubt each one of us has had some experience in our lives, in which we have had the feeling of being utterly helpless. But no matter who we are, no matter how rich or how poor, nor how profound our learning, we are all alike absolutely helpless in the face of death. Wealthy men would give all their possessions, learned men would give all their knowledge and artisans all of their skill, if it were possible to ward off that grim reaper. In his own strength, man can know but despair. But let us go with our Lord, as He meets that funeral procession, just outside the village of Nain. Death like a shadow must flee from his presence. He can turn despair into joy and gladness.

The Lord also questions Job as to his comprehension of the expanse of the earth, the treasures of the snow and hail and the wonders of the dew and the rain, and of the solar system. Scientists, of our day, can give us some facts as to the conditions surrounding these wonders, but not one of them can fully explain them.

The final question asked of Job, in our lesson, is about God's provision for His creatures. Sometimes it is much easier to get a collection of animals and fowls together, than it is to provide for them, after this is accomplished. But God provides for all his creatures, even the raven, which was a despised and unclean fowl. How presumptuous, on the part of any human being, to question the wisdom, the knowledge or the power of God.

Again, we must leave Job, still on the ash heap. But he is becoming a much wiser man. Next Sunday, we shall take him from the ash heap, and shall, we trust, get a better understanding of the lesson he learned there.

—O. C. Wallace

LAST SUNDAY

There is an old saying that "A Sunday well spent brings a week of content." If that is true we ought to be fairly well contented this week for as far as church services are concerned at Stow Community Church we thought them practically good and very much worthwhile last Sunday.

Being the Sunday after the Fourth and many people away on a three day holiday trip the attendance last Sunday morning was down a little. However it was the time of our quarterly communion—the time when we remember and celebrate the Lord's Supper. We thought Rev. Morgan's sermon very good. The service was well conducted, and those present must have realized the meaning and significance of the occasion.

Also, in the evening a particularly good message was delivered. Those who listen, of late, to the sermons of our minister should be getting a fundamental knowledge of salvation and what it means to be saved. The statement of our Lord Jesus Christ "Ye must be born again" has been overlooked by entirely too many people—church members included.

For those who would take advantage of our services they are as follows each week.

Crusader service.....6:30 p.m.
Evangelistic Service.....7:45 p.m.

Revival services have been going on each nite and the Lord is blessing. The message delivered by Rev. Smith are very inspirational and greatly enjoyed by all. Some of his topics have been on the Holy Spirit, and on Divine Healing; Sun. nite his topic was "Where are the Dead?", and many other outstanding topics. If you have missed any of these services you have missed a real blessing for your soul. The colored "Victory Jubilee Singers" have presented the musical program two nites. Other numbers are presented by Rev. Smith and by the Pastors Rev. and Mrs. Runyan.

A new S. S. teacher was added to the teaching staff. Mr. Charles Shank has the new class of the Jr. Boys. We pray God will richly bless him as he endeavors to work for the Lord.

Members of the ball team are more than grateful to the Lions Club of Stow for the presentation of new ball equipment. You watch in the Beacon Journal and you will soon see the picture of some of the boys in the ball outfit. Our deepest thanks to the Lions Club and Mr. Chisman who made this possible.

Starting Sunday nite the two departments of Crusaders will hold their own services. One, the T. , is under the direction of Mrs. Fannan and the Adult Crusaders under Mrs. Alice Byers. Mrs. Byers has been in office for some six months now and has done a very commendable work. We know she will continue to do so as she works

STOP TO SHOP

When we are out on a trip, we are accustomed, most of us, to meet only people who cater to the tourist trade and miss the people who are the regular residents of the region through which you are passing. So it is well to get off the through roads and stop once in a while. Try to buy a new necktie, a pair of shoes or maybe a cheap dress. They'll usually know you as a newcomer. Although you probably do not think of having a dialect, they'll know you are from the Middle-West.

However, there's no place half so good for getting the local news and opinions as in the barber shop. If it's a Saturday, so much the better. The place will be crowded, for that's the day the old men come in for their weekly shave. There'll be a crowd waiting, and you will get all the local news while you are waiting your turn. There'll be a lot of spicy banter going back and forth too and if you keep a sharp ear tuned for the lines you will be able to recite much of what is said afterward for the entertainment of the other members of the party. One such Saturday last month we stopped in a town in Eastern Maryland for an hour or so. The car needed lubrication, and I needed a haircut. The rest of the party went shopping. I got the last chair in the shop and waited for my turn. All the older fellows were there and most of them were talkative. Probably they knew I was a stranger and wanted to entertain me. There was to be a property sold at auction in the town that afternoon, and there was a good bit of discussion on the price it would bring. Most of it was just plain talk but I enjoyed it a lot. When the leader of the conversation left the shop, he turned to me and said, "I guess you think we're pretty talkative out here in Maryland. Anyway, I you luck on your trip." So the old boys passed out the door and I got my haircut, but afterward Helen urged me to rememebr more of their conversation verbatim. I enjoyed every minute of it. Maybe I'll be able to go there again for a haircut.

SORRY

Contrary to recent advertising we are sorry to announce that due to the Bottled Gas situation, Beidler's Steak Station must resume their former schedule of hours—opening 11:00 A. M. and closing at 1:00 A. M.

Using bottled gas for cooking and having a limited storage capacity for the same, due to the recent longer and therefore greater use of this commodity, we ran out and were forced to close early a time or two.

Therefore until a better gas supply can be obtained our hours will remain on week days—11:00 A. M. to 1:00 A. M.

The Delton C. Lees have a baby daughter. Her mother is the former Irene Stewart. This latest arrival of local young folks help make a fine trio in the Charley Stewart old farm home.

The four Blanchards who arrived from Indiana Sunday, while staying with the Lester Cragos also visited her relatives the Shepperds at Twin Lakes and in Akron. A message of the death of a cousin in Canton came shortly after their arrival. The funeral services were attended there on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vanouse, in spite of heavy traffic, motored to Cook's Forest on July 4th and went on to another mountain where they were able to rent a cabin for an overnight stay. Mountain laurel still in bloom and the stately pines with other scenic beauty gave them a pleasant change.

The Hermans entertained members of their family over the Fourth week end while their next door neighbors the Gordon Edwards, were "out-of-town" for this holiday time. On the Fourth their across-the-street neighbors the Ralph Arnolds and the John Mitchelsons, congregated with the Witsamans at the Brittan orchard grill for picnic dinner and supper. Badminton, horseshoe pitching, sun bathing, etc., kept them all out of mischief-eating moments.

Speaking of vacations the Alton Wetmores were busy at just that this week. While the Mama was in Cleveland, daughter Anita stayed with Mrs. Tewksbury, son Frank went to Masonic Camp at Rex Lake and the elder son, Clifford, was at Camp Manatoc. Daddy stayed home for the time being, perhaps dreaming of his coming fall hunting trips. A nice timewas had by all.

Saturday evening Dick Griffith entertained a group of his Kent friends, with a scavenger hunt. Who knows what all they ask for besides black pepper and purple thread?

Mrs. Herman Schuette and son Kim of Denver, Colorado, are vacationing with Mr. Schuette in his Cleveland apartment. Mrs. Schuette much improved in health hopes to return to Ohio to live when their now over six foot son completes his senior year in high school next spring. The Schuettes were some of our neighbors who came especially to wish their "Father Brittan" a happy birthday, being three of the seventy-five callers who came before, on, and after his 86th anniversary. Receiving over fifty greetings and almost that many dollars T.H.B. the First, felt extra rich in life's many blessings for he has showered with other gifts too, one neighbor bringing a birthday cake, another a cherry pie, another eggs, others brought him melons, candy, cigars, etc. During strawberry season old and new neighbors gave him so many quarts of berries he not only more than had his fill of strawberry short cakes, but shared them with two Kent contemporaries, 81 year young Mimie Justus and 84 year youngster Mrs. Lola Scott, who came on separate days to lunch with him, seemingly eating their fill then these girls enjoyed his flowers with him for all are flower lovers and the corner of Brittan's flowers are again a riot of color. Sixty stalks of Madonna lilies again are strutting their stuff amongst the Shirley and Californita poppies, larkspur, and bachelor buttons. Ted says "even the weather man was extra kind providing a beautiful day and I've had a wonderful birthday and glorious Fourth of July." Perhaps all this and last week's write up is too much about one youngster's day but what other metropolis this size has a self-appointed mayor still going strong on the fourth quarter of first hundred years. Could be someone is sort of prejudiced.
