STOW, OHIO No. 13

MINISTER'S COLUMN

Bob Ingersoll gave a great lecture one time. His subject was "The Mistakes of Moses." He made Moses look very foolish. Once over the lecture and the great law-giver had shrunk into insignificance, it was the occasion for a good laugh. However, when one took the lecture up piece by piece and analyzed it thoughtfully there wasn't much left but wind and boast. Truth and facts remained and were not damaged or dimmed by oratory and jokes.

Now, sir, the average man seems to have a grievance. There is much wrong in the world to be sure, but I am wondering about the mistakes Moses didn't make. The things that stand out big, like mountain peaks for more than three thousand years.

I have read somewhere in an old Book, "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, pure, lovely and of good report, think on these things." There has never been a time or place in the history of the human race when or where life was a dream. This world is a University of Hard Knocks. There is much to be reckoned with. Keep a-going, friend, there are many things worth while in this world of ours.

I prefer constructive thought and constructive action to the quarrel and the wrangle of the demagogue of the day. In spite of all I read, hear and see to the contrary I still love my country, and I dare point to many rifts in the clouds. I refresh myself every morning with the thought of a new world and a better day.

One loud boisterous cry rising above confusion today is against wealth. The Great Teacher did not condemn wealth, He condemned the love of wealth. There is not a rich man in America today that is a miser. Andy Mellon has announced his intentions of spending a mighty sum of money in Washington, D. C., a gift to the nation. Henry Ford is promoting scientific farming all over Michigan. John D. Rockefeller has probably given for public good more than any other living man in the world. All these men, and most of our other rich men, have witnessed, wealth alone does not satisfy. Let us not deery wealth without qualifications. Wealth is prestige to any people, it should mean leisure, it should draw to us all comforts, artists, thinkers, inventors, mechanics, and the best from far off lands.

We are living in an age when mighty things are accomplished. Again, America loves education. Who can see Stars and Stripes float over thousands of institutions of learning and not feel a stir in their soul? Churches, many of them, every known variety and each of them with a spiritual urge to lift humanity up and on.

Let us not think and talk so much in terms of what's wrong in our land, let us recite the many things that are good.

GEO. M. HULME, Minister

China were compelled to wear iron shoes so that they might have small feet to hobble about on when they were grown. And it has not been over forty years ago that the Chinamen could not cut off his queue. While there are many things to be desired in China, the little girls are no longer tortured with iron shoes, and the queue is no longer compulsory. It is not the American Tobacco Co. or that great American Oil company, or the French wine merchants that brought about the change—, it was the book called the Bible.

Commander Perry some years ago succeeded in opening the door to Japan a nation which previously had been living in ignorance and spiritual darkness. Though here, too, there is much to be desired in Japan, much progress has been made in that country since the missionaries with the Bible were allowed to enter.

Some years ago little girls in India were compelled to marry at the age of eight or nine years. Often they died a year or so later. Because such practices are not taught in the Bible the English government stepped in and said no. Now in India the little girls have an opportunity to live a decent and normal life.

And lastly—here in America in that most important place, where Christ's teachings can best be planted, the HOME, there is an occasional altar where the book called the Bible is read, prayers are offered, and the family brought up in the way of the Lord.

Ladies! Some have wondered why there is not more Guild news in this paper. The reason is simple. The editor does not attend Guild and the ladies very seldom take the trouble to inform him regarding Guild activities. Let us have more news from church organizations including the Guild.

For the average person Rev. Hulme is just the minister you ought to hear. Come with an open heart and as time goes on you will say with the rest of us, there is a man who has a message—there is a man inspired of God; it is good for us to listen to him.

Last Sunday morning we were told that in Joshua the 20th chapter we could find a very interesting record of the Cities of Refuge—six of them in number. An old pagan law has it—"an eye for an eye—a tooth for a tooth" a life for a life, etc." The Jews made a step forward when the six Levitical cities were appointed "as asylums to which anyone undesignedly accessory to the death of a human being was commanded to flee for safety and here remain until his offense was investigated." Jesus came and laid aside the old Mosaic law. However, we too, have six cities of refuge and also two others. The first six, Rev. Hulme said he would mention only briefly, giving the main portion of his sermon on the last two.

1. The first city of refuge is PRAYER. There are times when the human heart would draw away from almost every human agency and be alone with God in Prayer.

2. The second city of refuge is the BIBLE. Comfort and solace are here.

3. The third city of refuge is FAITH. Faith is the substance of things hoped for—the evidence of things not seen.

4. A fourth city of refuge is GOD. A comforting influence. Author of every good and perfect gift. Immutable, incomprehensible. His ways are past finding out. He is a God of love and Mercy and faithfulness to those that love Him.

5. Another city of refuge is SONG. Soul uplifting, soul inspiring.

6. HUMAN FRIENDSHIP is another city of refuge. Rev. Hulme did not say so but, pity the man who has no friends. To have friends one must be friendly.

Two other cities of refuge and as stated before Rev. Hulme expected to give his main discussion on these two—but lack of time prevented.

7. THE CHURCH. Let us go with our wise men, our widows and our children and pray in God's house. We come to church because of the urge within—something more than is found in the heart of the brute and the beast.

8. CONFIDENCE. A city of refuge. "And this is the confidence that we have in Him, that, if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us." 1st. John 5:14. Confidence is the backbone of civilization, the silver thread that binds Humanity together. Confidence is what is needed in the countries across the water today.
