FOOLS

Fools they are that try to build on the sweat and blood of others; fools are they that try to build themselves by pulling others down; fools are they that impose and levy burdens on others while they themselves gloat in their inferiority. This gang of fools has existed since the world began, and, lo, our age is infested with many of this deadly breed.

True and worthy building begins on a foundation called service, and, without exception through the ages, men who have heaped about them a worthy honor and fame have been those who served their fellows, their age, everybody, everywhere, world without end. All this because they gave unstintingly and without greed or selfish gain to all mankind.

Jesus Christ illuminates history as man number one in this regard. This Man of Galilee holds first place in the hearts of all races today. His name is above all names for He gave His matchless wisdom, His exemplary life, His love, sympathy, all, He gave it for all the world and that all men of all ages might be benefitted.

The fatal mistake of Mussolini, the Dictator of Italy, is to build again the glory that was once Rome's at the expense of millions and millions of dear people, created in the image of God, but who have no part or interest in the wild scheme of the Italian Dictator, slaves by the millions to gratify the gloat and passion for power of the man who would say, I am God's anointed, but whose fingers drip with the blood of those whom he enslaves. If this human dictator had a true love for man he would be doing something constructive for all men everywhere and not alone a scheme for Italy.

FOOLS, FOOLS, these mortals are, and will they ever learn?

The fatal mistake of Adolf Hitler is in his mad dream of world conquest operating with the mightiest forces of destruction that the race of men has ever known. His whole display of terror, destruction, and human slaughter will all pass, it will occupy a sordid page of the world's history, it will shock the races that are to follow. Nevertheless, like a house built on the sand, the day shall test its foundation and it will crash, for it is a selfish and bloody design to destroy the weak, to crush the small, to enslave the many that the German Nation be superior and by right of conquest be lords of all the earth.

FOOLS, yes, FOOLS, for here men will find a law, and that law is that a Nation is glorified not for her brutality but only for her service, her service to all the world. No Nation has long survived by appropriating, or theft, or oppressing, or violating the divine rights of others. The true and lasting glory of any people lies in their solicitude, their kindness, and their good-will to all men everywhere.

FOOLS, FOOLS, are men when found fighting against the sacred rights of the children of men. If the world would stand all men everywhere must be neighbors. Our statesmen must plan the good, the uplift, the prosperity of all

BIBLE STUDY LESSON

July 20

Printed Text—1 Cor. 5:9-13; Titus 2:1-8.

Golden Text—Ye are the salt of the earth. Matt. 5:13.

It is a difficult thing to live the right kind of life if associations are constantly with those who are living in sin. Paul taught that the church should have no company with a "fornicator, or covetours, or an idolater, or a reviler, or a drunkard or an extortioner.'

Naturally, this doesn't mean that one should not speak to a neighbor guilty of some known sin, or refuse to work beside a non-believer, or deal with him in a business way. But it does mean that parents can refrain from bringing such people into their home in a social way, mingling with them as a recreation and letting their children come in contact with those whose ideals are lower.

Specifically, if a Christian comes to the conclusion that drink is harmful to him and his family—and Paul classes drunkenness as a sin—then it seems that the simplest way to make a stand on the issue and obtain reinforcement in this resolution is to start choosing friends who do not drink. This will remove the constant temptation which is thrown in his way when associating with drinking friends, and it will bolster up his own convictions to be among friends who are taking the same stand.

The light of the world is the light of a perfect understanding. Our thorough knowledge of our profession brings to the ceremony an unmistakable note of sincerity.

Cundiff for Wednesday of this week when plans were made for the National Aluminum Drive which the government has requested the P. T. A. to supervise in Stow. This will occur on Thursday of next week July 24th. Volunteers with cars are wanted to help make the collections. All householders who have old or non usable aluminum kettles, pots, or pans are requested to have them ready for the collectors. In case you are missed call Mrs. Cundiff and she will see that your aluminum is collected.

By all helping in this drive much can be done to relieve the aluminum shortage and also show the world where we stand on the matter of preparation for National Defense.

the present church building. The plan seems to be to use this for the three largest or adult classes. While we believe that much needed repairs should first be made to the present building and that the same should not be undertaken unless the cash is on hand to pay the bill, it is suggested that if the three classes who will benefit most are sufficiently interested and really "sold" on the proposition of new class rooms, it should not be such a difficult matter, for it is generally conceded that what folks really want they will find some way to obtain. For instance think of the electric refrigerators possessed by our church members, the cars, the new summer clothes, etc. Each individual must have been sold on the idea before the sale was made. So it is with new class room space. There are probably 100 members in these three classes combined. If all are sold on the idea as being most important and vital, ten dollars from each one would be forthcoming without even asking. Then with this $1000, by doing all the work ourselves, we might have the class rooms. But are we all sold on the idea?
