

Way Back When

by Frank Green

EARLY THANKSGIVING

I don't remember any special one. At home when I was a boy we always had Thanksgiving at Grandpa Stow's. Their wedding anniversary was November 23. We didn't raise turkeys and it was unthinkable for us thrifty Yankees to buy one, so it was chicken with pumpkin and mince pies. Cow pumpkins and the mince pies made from my mother's delicious mince meat, which was made from golden sweet apples or maybe sometimes from greasy pippens and home butchered beef. Father said mother put everything but the dishrag into her mince pies.

The making of the mince meat was an annual job at which the whole family worked. The apples and meat were chopped fine (I mean fine) in wooden bowls. — Thanksgiving services at the church (only one) at the Corners, was on Thanksgiving morning.

My father often preached the sermon. Of course we all were reminded to be grateful for our many blessings. I recall this story from one of his talks:

It was in rhyme. I can't remember just how it went but a stingy deacon in a country church had a very fine crop of potatoes that fall but he still grouched because them bugs got a few of them. The deacon was ardent and lengthy in prayer and scolded others when they failed to attend services regularly, as he did.

There was a poor widow who belonged to the church. She failed to come for a Sunday or two. The deacon called on her and when she failed to give a reason for her absence, he got down on his knees and made one of his best prayers. But often as he prayed she kept saying "Oh give to the hungry potatoes." Finally the deacon jumped up, hurried home and brought her "a bushel or more of his very best potatoes." "Now", said the deacon, "shall we pray." "Yes," said the widow, "Now you may pray."

STO-KENT LANES CRAMMED AT OPENING

Stow responded to the Sto-Kent Bowling Lanes' Grand Opening in the grand manner last Friday night. The lanes were wall-to-wall with people — bowlers, well-wishers, and sightseers.

Guests of the management at dinner in the "300" Room were members of the Stow Police and Fire Departments, Mayor Charles Monteith, Betty Thompson, Village clerk and Council members, as well as Vic Phillips, president of Ohio Bowling Proprietors Association, Harry Krause, vice president, and Glenn Tyner, secretary of North Summit Bowling Association.

Top: Mayor Monteith cuts the ribbon while Dale Dillehunt rear, Glenn Tyner, Harry Krause, John Watkins, Dick Michelson, and Vic Phillips watch.

Mayor Charles Monteith cut the ribbon signifying the formal opening of the lanes, and then picked up a bowling ball for the first time in his life. He rolled it down the lane, knocking down the 7 pin, thus avoiding the dreaded gutter ball.

Stow Firemen and Policemen took over two lanes in an exhibition tourney filled with good natured joshing, after the visiting guests and local officials and the owners all were introduced to say a few words by Glenn Tyner, jovial Master of Cermonies. (Police were losers by approximately 300 pins!)

The grand drawing of free prizes began at 10 p.m., with young David Dillehunt and David Watkins pulling names of the winners from the box.

Bowling continued till 3:30 a.m. when the crowd finally decided to call it a day.

Consensus of opinion was that Stow had a beautiful new recreational facility.

Below: Visiting dignitaries relax a moment after dinner in the '300' Room.

ISSUE No. 1 - The Morning After

Oboyoboyoboy! Your response to our first edition was way beyond our fondest hopes — thank you everybody!

After the last pile of papers was deposited at the post office (I'll bet that's the first time they had papers brought in in wash-baskets!), we sat around picking up the errors we had missed before going to press.

"Oh-oh!" somebody said. "Here's Friday, the 21st — there isn't any Friday the 21st — it's either the 20th or it's Saturday!" Groans.

"This ad should have a border around it... next week we'll have a border."

"Hey! This story about 4-H doesn't end! Where's the rest of it?" We just left poor Mary Ann Flaherty speaking at a dinner and without even a period, went on to something entirely different."

"Something slipped here — this is cockeyed!"

In spite of everything, we still loved it. It was in print, it was addressed, it was mailed — it was really launched!

We're sorry it wasn't absolutely perfect, but maybe with practice—

We're specially sorry we gave William Wirth, of Nationwide Insurance, the wrong phone number. The one we gave him was disconnected. The least we could have done, if we weren't going to give him his own, would have been to give him one where there was someone on the other end of the line to tell people they had the wrong number! It's OV 8-5811, as you can plainly see in his ad this week!

And then didn't we find out that our mailing list had omitted all of Graham Rd. and all of Kent Rd.! What a hassle we had — Kent Rd. went out a day late — we never did make Graham, but our salesman called there, so I hope we're covering the area now. Growing pains — birth pangs — headaches —

But we're glad we made a paper, anyway. Aren't you?

.... Peg Knight

FORBIDDEN FRUIT

Her table was loaded with harvest,
The Thanksgiving prayer had been said,
All of the children were quiet,
A halo could rest on each head.

The china and crystal were gleaming,
The table was covered with lace.
The silver and napkins were perfect,
Nothing was out of place.

Then I looked at the fruit arrangement
My eye could not escape,
The naked shimmering stem-end,
Where someone had swiped a grape.

STANDINGS IN THE LEAGUES

First Christian Church: High team is No. 8; Wednesday Night Mixed League, The Splitters are ahead with no losses out of 8 games; Maplewood Park Mens has a tie in first place — Maplewood Park (HHH) and Marhofer Chevs; Maplewood Park Ladies have Lassens Dining Room leading with 7 out of 7 wins; Falls Elks Mixed has a tie between Leopards and Bears; Monday Night Ladies League finds Team 4 out in front with 7 wins and one loss; Darrow Street Grange Hotshots haven't lost yet in 8 games.

HOOP SCOOP

Coach Bob Sonnhalter has been working very hard with his basketball team this past week in an effort to mold a working unit together. Tonight is the preview game — Saturday the first game against Ravenna City at Ravenna, where the game will be part of the dedication of their new gym.

Most of the boys are still very inexperienced, but in practice games against Tallmadge and Hudson they proved that they will have to be reckoned with. Although out-sized and out-experienced, they were in the ball game throughout. They scrapped hard to get the ball off the boards and to get that second shot. The result of their efforts was a very respectable showing.

This Bulldog team has a tremendous competitive spirit that will enable them to overcome many of their shortcomings.

PRETZEL TWISTING

Coach Jim "Tiger" Tyree says he has quite a fine Stow High wrestling team. Most of the fellows are all veterans and it looks as if they should have a real fine season. More about this later.

A revised traffic code was put into effect November 12, which will be easier to work with and more in line with the state code. It was a job to get it into effect tho' since it took three ordinances, read in their entirety to do it.

In lieu of the regular meeting which would normally be held on November 26th, Thanksgiving Day, Council elected to meet a week early, November 19th. A good deal of this meeting was used to study legal and engineering work formerly done on sanitary sewers in Renee Estates. The original petition was in error and therefore a new petition will be presented, then the passing of Ordinance No. 1959-103 which was passed entitled:

Since one of the police cars was wrecked, the Police Department has found itself "short-carred" until bids could be taken for a new police car. In the meantime Captain Harper converted his personal automobile. For this reason council passed a resolution fixing com-

Sunday night after C.Y.F., at the First Christian Church, the group went to Linda Seese's home for a sort of "Goof-off" party. Before the evening was over, they found themselves creating their own sundaes. I hear there were some real artists in the crowd and then again some real sloppy people. Nevertheless, they all turned out yummy.

It's a good thing the teachers had their annual Workshop Day, Monday, November 16, because a certain group of Junior girls may not have made it to school. It seems there was a party Sunday night at Carol Brandon's home. They ate, danced, ate, played cards, and ate again. Afterwards, the girls stayed for a Slumber Party and everyone is still recovering.

That evening, Linda Anderson opened her home for a Future Teachers' meeting. This month's speaker was Mr. Coleman, principal of Woodland Grade School. I'm sure some of his enthusiasm rubbed off on the students. Delicious pumpkin pie added the final touch to the meeting.

The Varsity S and Pep Club skating party, held at the State 8 Roller Rink, was poorly attended this time. We hope this was only due to an excess of homework Wednesday night. The chaperons, Mr. Tyree, Mr. Handorf, Mrs. Ramseyer, Miss Castor, and Mrs. Anderson, almost equalled the number of students there.

Thursday night the Marching Band had their banquet at the Stow Smorgasbord. Fried chicken was the choice of the evening, along with side dishes of tomato juice, tossed salad, pecan rolls, whipped potatoes and gravy, French green beans and pineapple sherbert. Honored guest were Mr. and Mrs. P. I. Van Brunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barr, and Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Cooley. Even though they were filled to the brim, everyone took part in the Multiple Choice dances which Mr. Mitchell and his wife led. Everyone seemed to enjoy the "Dixie Dandies", which is a dance band made up of several students. There was Jim Savory and his trumpet; Tom Van Brunt, tube; Bill Mast, trombone; Steve Berg, clarinet; Don Murfin, saxophone; and Jim Fritz on the drums. Terry Frantz is manager and director. "Tiger Rag", "Jada", "Oh!", and "In a Minor Mood" are a few of the pieces they played.

The Turkey Day Race was held Friday at Highland Grade School. Contestants ran down Graham Road to Baumberger Road, up Baumberger, circled Mr. Handorf's car and returned to the starting line. First place winner was Ed Bosley; second place, Jim Cowles; third place, Larry Moore; and fourth place, George Porosky.

Holy Family Church was the setting for the exchanging of wedding vows before the Rev. William Johnson, of Helen Christine Caracciolo and Ronald Eugene Bevington. The ceremony united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francisco J. Caracciolo, 5369 Stow Rd. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Bevington, 4051 Stow Rd.

The bride chose a gown of off white silk taffeta and Alencon lace. Designed in the princess style, with long tapered sleeves, the gown had a lace applique scoop neckline.

Her veil of illusion was caught to a crown of seed pearl.

The attendants, including seven sisters of the bride and the sister of the groom wore matching dresses of Paris pink and carried cascades of blue. They wore tiaras of matching pink.

The maid of honor, Miss Kathryn Caracciolo wore Dior blue, fashioned the same and carried a pink cascade.

Bridesmaids were, Threase Caracciolo, Mrs. JoAnne Barker, Mrs. Francisca Strader, Mrs. Rosalia Duckworth and Mrs. Rita Smith, Bernadette Caracciolo, and Linda Bevington were junior bridesmaids.

Herbert Pieper was best man, ushers included Larry Miller, Glenn Crossman, Robert Bosley, Samuel Leslie and Thomas Sivo.

Don Canovan, 1225 Mac Drive, and husband of Meryl Canovan, Police Secretary, is in Akron General Hospital with a ruptured disc.

James Mullins, the injured Stow Policeman, is now home and after a serious operation which inserted a piece of steel into his leg. He is probably mighty glad to be there.
