

LURE 2 Verses 7 - 14

Miss Velma Markman
3916 Stow Rd.
Stow

And she brought forth her first-born Son; and she wrapped Him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, and keeping watch by night over their flock. And an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people; for there is born to you this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. And this is the sign unto you; Ye shall find a Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest,

And on earth peace among men in whom He is well pleased.

MINIERS HOMELESS FOR CHRISTMAS

The Bill Minier family of four, formerly of Kent Rd., now of four different addresses, including City Hospital, are without a place to make their home. Their former home, destroyed by the recent crash of a plane, is charred and gaping.

They want to stay in Stow. Son Bud attends Stow High.

Hattie, his mother, wants to continue her work as Stow correspondent for the Record-Courier. She has been told by her doctor that she must not live where there are stairs to climb when she is released from the hospital.

However, husband Bill has been unable so far to find suitable quarters so the family can establish a home again when Hattie is released from the hospital.

They need a one-floor, furnished apartment or house (their furniture was all destroyed in the fire resulting from the crash) in the Stow phone district.

Perhaps a member of one of the clubs Hattie has helped with publicity will know of an available place. Perhaps a family is wintering in the south, and would rent their house temporarily.

If you have any solution for this small Stow family, call Hattie Minier at Akron City Hospital. If they have a mixed-up Christmas, maybe at least they can start the new year with hope.

Only after you have given courage to the willing hands who constantly wait on loved ones in the face of black doubt;

only after you have given comfort where fresh grief has not stilled the question of why and has left dismal discouragement;

only after you have given cheer to some neglected folk befriending them in dark despair;

only then approach the sheer brilliance of the Star and kneel in humble adoration of the Christ Child.

Way Back When

by Frank Green

A "GREEN CHRISTMAS" BACK WHEN

Christmas was mostly a home affair when I was a boy. There was little of the glittering pagentry of today. More sincerity, less pretense, in our giving. But this is not a bitter soliloquy.

So far back as I remember, we did have a party in the Sunday School. Often a tree and colored muslin bags full of candy and an orange for every child. They were strung all over the tree with popcorn balls and made a pretty show.

A Santa Claus handed them out to us eager kids. There was lovely singing too, and a simple play in which mammas proudly displayed their talented offspring. At home we hung up our long wool stockings and hurried down stairs in the morning from our chilly bedrooms to be the first to say "Merry Christmas" and, of course, to find out what Santa Claus (?) had put in our stockings. I especially remember two Christmas mornings.

Sometime before the first one I had made it quite plain that I either wanted a bought sled, or a pair of skates. Imagine my glee when I found both of them under my stocking. (In those days skates clamped onto your shoes. They weren't made all in one piece with the shoes.)

The stocking had the usual orange, candy, and Grandma Stow's doughnuts cut to look like little children. I remember just how they looked. The sled was short and rather high off the ground. I soon discarded it for a long low one that I could slam down and go "belly bunts." I think my sister Daisy used the little one. I learned to skate with those skates but I always had to wear leather boots when I skated—my ankles were weak. After the boots got wet a few times they stood alone and held my ankles up.

The other Christmas morning, after we were all seated at breakfast table, five of us Green children—four girls and one boy—Father said "Ellen, now bring on the oysters." Mamma brought the big dish pan in. Instead of oysters it had five napkins, each folded into a silver holder with our names engraved on them. The girls' rings were round, mine was flat on the bottom but hipped over the top. I think those rings are still mixed in with the silverware.

Father spent most of this time in the evenings reading or writing in his study. The rest of the family were clustered around the big wood base burner in the living room. I had my "nose in a book" or was playing chess with my sister Mary, the only one of the girls that cared for it. Father would come in and read aloud, from anything he liked, to all of us. It might be a poem, a selection from Hamlet, or if it was Christmas Eve, it could have been "The Night Before Christmas."

We all liked fun but got much of it right at home. We couldn't hop into our new car for we had none, and we had some responsibilities. The cows had to be fed and milked. I spoke of the base burner in the sitting room. It was a wood-hog but there were six other stoves in the house and only one boy to carry wood for them. Oh well, I lived a long time through it and I still love Christmas. I am not so very old!

Town Hall

Last week Village Council passed a resolution exempting farm buildings from the control and regulation of the building code. Farm dwellings and residences are not exempted.

Each councilman leaving council made a short farewell speech to thank everyone concerned, and concluded they had accomplished "some good" during their term.

Newly elected council members were present to watch and listen.

Coming in the future: more about Tri-County's plan for Stow and introductions to your new councilmen.

Terry Talks of High

by Terry McIntyre

Here a party, there a party, everywhere a party, party, party. The Christmas vacation is here and everyone is getting ready for guests, Santa Claus, or/and parties. Saturday night after the basketball game the members of the Glee Club and all the seniors met at Cindy Brown's house for eats, chatter, and lots of fun. She had a wonderful turn out and as they say, the more the merrier.

Monday, the twenty-eighth, there will be a taffy pull and slumber party at Terry Moore's house. There will be a party at her party, early in the evening, to which boys have been invited.

If you happen to wonder where all the seniors are on New Year's Eve, you will find them at Bernie Czartoski house. They will all meet there at 9:00 to say good-bye to the old year and hello to the new.

Last Friday night, the high school cooks had a party at Yanko's in the honor of Mrs. Marie Cross, who is retiring. Mrs. Cross has run the dishwasher at Stow for the past ten years. Attending the party were Mrs. Donna Black, Mrs. Cathy Detzler, Mrs. Lucille Day, Mrs. Edna Gleghorn, Mrs. Agnes Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Ruth Lawrentz, Mrs. Bea Ward, and Mrs. Margaret Murdick. A flaming shish kabob was served to Mrs. Cross, it was her first.

Also, on that Friday, the Glee Club and the Band presented a Christmas assembly for the student body. They sang and played carols and later invited the audience to join them in singing the more familiar tunes. During this program, the Dixie Dandies took the opportunity to show us what they could do with "Jingle Bells" and "Here Comes Santa Claus." They did a wonderful job, every foot was swinging with their beat.

The C.Y.F. of Stow Christian Church presented a Christmas pageant in front of the church. There were a different set of performers each night. On Tuesday and Wednesday, there were two presentations, one at seven o'clock and the other at nine o'clock. Today will be the last performance at ten o'clock.

The Freshman Class officers have been elected. They are as follows: President, Dave Oblak; Vice President, Dave Garver; and Secretary-Treasurer is Jill Wright.

The Sophomores finally got their class jackets Friday. They are a beautiful soft shade of beige, with striking white trim. The emblems are a brown and white bulldog wearing a maroon and gold "S".

As some of you probably know, there was some question as to whether or not there would be a Senior play this year. There didn't seem to be any teacher who could arrange to spend every evening for about six weeks in order to direct the play. Finally Mrs. Ranta consented to take the responsibility. She teaches English and journalism, and even though she has very few seniors in her classes they all think she is simply wonderful. The play "Time Out For Ginger" is simply darling. I have read it, but I won't tell you about it. Come and see for yourself. Everyone hopes it will be presented in February.

Jim Pardee, Stow High N.F.L. member, took third place in the humorous declamation division of an area contest held in Youngstown on December 12.

Merry Christmas!

Frank Godfrey, active Stow Player, is recovering from an emergency appendectomy at Green Cross Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Andreson and their daughter Linda of Darrow Rd., are visiting another daughter, Carol, in California for Christmas.

A daughter, Robin Lynn, weighing in at eight pounds, five ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest DuChene of Ravenna Dec. 12. The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. DuChene of 3815 Hile Rd., also welcomed a new grandson, Dennis Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mohr of Hudson on Nov. 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Myers, 3014 Oakridge Rd., Silver Lake, will entertain 15 couples at a cocktail party before attending the formal Notre Dame Alumni Dance at the Portage Country Club on Tues. evening Dec. 29th.

An "Open House" party for 80 couples will be held from 2-6 p.m. on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 27th in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Ruffner, 3007 Harriet Rd.

On Sunday evening Dec. 27 at 7:30 members of Our Lady of Grace Study Club and their husbands will gather around a festive punch bowl in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kelly 3137 E. Edgerton. Buffet Supper will be served at 8 p.m., followed by games and dancing in the recreation room. Mrs. Ralph Burkley is completing arrangements.

In Sympathy—Funeral Mass was held in St. Martha's on Saturday, Dec. 19, for Mrs. Lucille McCormick, 581 Marview Ave., who was the mother of Mrs. A.J. Alexander, 3440 Oak Rd., and of William McCormick of Silver Lake.

Last week seemed to be for parties. Grant's had theirs, and Rudy Sprenger, manager, was presented with a good sized box containing a lively surprise. Co-op at Stow Plaza celebrated Saturday after closing, while Birnbaum's entertained on Thursday night, with the husbands of their customers as special guests.

VACATION TREAT FOR THE YOUNG FRY

Something for the kiddies to look forward to during vacation time is "Magic Flower", a puppet show which will be staged in the gymnasium at Holy Family School on Wednesday, December 30, at 11:00 a.m.

Producers are Sherman Puppet, Inc. of Cleveland. After the show the children are allowed to examine the puppets and are told informally how they are made and operated.

All Stow children are invited to come. Admission is 25¢ for children, 35¢ for adults.

Warnings are out from police and safety organizations that more accidents are predicted during this holiday season than ever before. BE CAREFUL!

Newly installed officers of the Munroe Falls Garden Club. (l. to r.) Mrs. Donald Lyle, secretary; Mrs. Perry Towne, treasurer; Mrs. Owen Oakes, vice-president; and Mrs. Monroe Carpenter, president.

Ruth Baker writes that her husband Jim is in the hospital. Just when they were getting so nicely settled in their new home in Arizona!

The Robert E. Vogels of 3475 Edgewood, added a baby girl to their family on Dec. 20. The new daughter brings them to a total of three girls and two boys.

Carl and Margaret Donaldson, Munroe Falls Ave. longtime Village residents celebrated their forty-second wedding anniversary on Dec. 20. And on Dec. 23 Village Clerk, Virginia L. Dove and her husband, Dan, observed their thirty-sixth wedding anniversary. Many happy returns of the day to both couples.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Tickhill, Jr. are the very proud parents of their first born, a baby girl, weighing seven pounds six ounces at birth, Dec. 5, at Akron City Hospital. The new arrival has been named Kimberly Sue.

Come into Our Kitchen

A kitchen is a homey place,
It's such a lived in room!
It may be small, it may be large,
There's cheer but never gloom.

At Christmas time it has an air
Of mince and pumpkin pie,
With the turkey in the oven
And good things standing by.

The kitchen is a lively spot
Attracting one and all.

Our kitchen is no exception,
It is our festive hall!

So we'll dish up and serve to you
What we've cooked up to-day.
A line from an old, old carol,
"Let nothing you dismay!"

Holy Family Boy Scout Troop 177 awarded prizes for the most beautiful Christmas ornaments made by the 60 boys at a Yule party Dec. 21 in the school gym at 7 p.m.

Commissions for Christmas card sales were awarded also. Richard Robert is Scoutmaster and John Lux and Jerome Haas were chairmen.

The troop held an all-day camp-out on Dec. 19 at Camp Menioke, Ravenna. John Milec, assistant scoutmaster, was in charge.

LIGHT ON CHRISTMAS NIGHT

It was not light
On Christmas Night.
And in the stable
They were barely able
To see
Except for the light
That came through the night
It came from afar
From the great, great star.

Stow Sports

by Roy Kincaid

Although Saturday night The Stow Bulldogs celebrated their first victory of the basketball season, they had been soundly defeated the night before by Springfield.

The bulldogs still lack the key to steady victory. They make many errors and their play is ragged. This, of course, is due to lack of experience. Lack of experience is due to the lack of an intramural program in the lower grades.

It is a pity that such a fine group of fellows should have to face defeat so regularly. A well-rounded educational program includes physical as well as mental exercise, and our team has been severely handicapped in the physical department.

Many successful businessmen were once participants in athletic programs. There are many examples of such participation resulting in better citizens. It encourages competitive spirit, companionship, leadership, the ability to make decisions, and a sense of responsibility—all qualities becoming rarer in young people.

A lackadazical athletic program such as the one which exists in Stow schools is detrimental to society. Statistics from the U. S. Army and Navy, and from physical fitness tests given annually in public and parochial schools, all show a marked softening of our young people's muscles and coordination.

It would behoove the people of this community to look into the deplorable gymnasium facilities at Stow High, which are not only inadequate by present standards, but also present a safety hazard during basketball games as they are played in these times.

A Booster program might help. If the readers of this column have any suggestions, please mail a note to The Stow Press, Box 603, Stow, Ohio, and address it to the attention of the Sports Editor.

Let's get the best for our students, so they'll be able to give their best!

STOWITES GREET NEIGHBORS

Too bad we can't show you the beautiful colors and the fascinating motion involved in some of our neighbors' home decorations.

The Shumans' message blinks off and on; Purcells have a brilliant Christmas card lighted for all to see; while Cains show Santa's mode of locomotion in their front yard.

Girl Scouts Carol and Party

Girl Scout Troop 278 went Christmas caroling at Green Cross Hospital before their gift exchange and party at the home of Mrs. Frank Smith 4293 Darrow Rd., Dec. 17. Santa was waiting for them there. At other seasons of the year, he is known as Nelson Russell of Kent. On Santa's lap is guest Patricia

Russell. Surrounding him are (front row, l to r.) Nancy Chandler, Jerome Russell, Brent Smith, (2nd row) Linda Kirkpatrick, Carol Humbert, Kay Blocki, and Judy Smith; (3rd row) Pat Montgomery, Linda Humbert, Jeffery Russell, and Deanna Hines. Smiling over gifts in right picture are: (first row) Cosette
