Ready-made Resolutions for Almost Anybody

- FOR DADS: Never say "when I was your age" to your son unless requested to.
- FOR MOMS: Never say "slaving over a hot stove." Substitute "up to my elbows in the freezer."
- FOR CLUB MEMBERS: Don't criticize the work of another member unless you're ready to take over the job.
- FOR MUSIC LOVERS: Put all the records back in their proper holders as soon as you have finished playing them. (This is for people who are challenged by the impossible)
- FOR BOOK LOVERS: If you must underline passages in the books you read, buy your own, don't do it to library books.
- FOR PARENTS: See what YOU can do to get Physical Education put into the curriculum of the lower grades.
- FOR HOUSEWIVES: THROW OR GIVE AWAY everything in the house that hasn't been used for one year. (Could go a long way toward Spring Cleaning)
- FOR STOW POLICEMEN: Just keep up what you're doing — a good job.
- FOR NEW COUNCILMEN (AND OLD): Do unto Stow as you would unto your own family. "People always make mistakes if they do not see that their whole significance must consist in their contribution to the lives of others." (Alfred Adler)
- FOR THE KIDS: Try to be patient with your poor old parents — it's been a long time since they had your problems, if they ever did!
- FOR STOW RESIDENTS: "Buy it in Stow". If you can't find it here, tell The Stow Press.
- FOR THE STOW PRESS: KEEP UP WITH STOW!

MORGAN OPTIMISTIC ABOUT 60'S GROWTH

A healthy business climate with increased employment in 1960 was predicted today by Burton D. Morgan, president of Stow's newest industry, Morgan Adhesives Co.

Morgan, who started the manufacture of self-adhesive labels for a wide variety of products six months ago, said he expects the printing and labeling industry in general to increase some 20% in volume over the next year.

Citing national economists who forecast an employment rise of about five percent, Morgan said 'We expect to hire more workers in the near future. Our plant now has 40 employees.

The 24,000 square foot Morgan plant at 4569 Darrow Road was completed in July, 1959, at a cost of some 300,000. It is on a 20-acre site in Stow's new industrial park, the first plant in that development.

'We have broken the ice in Stow's industrial park although the site is in strong competition with other similar developments in this area,' Morgan said.

The company is a subsidiary of the Bemis Bros. Bag Co. of Boston, one of the leading national manufacturers of packaging materials, including plastic, paper and cloth bags.

Morgan Adhesives' product is based on the use of self-sticking labels on much merchandise.

Hudsons Jet to Puerto Rico

In the winter, northerners' fancies lightly turn to more temperate climes—particularly Puerto Rico in the case of the Richard Hudsons, 3482 Edgewood Dr.

They were among the 20 Tadmor Temple couples from the Akron area who turbo-jetted out of Cleveland airport at 11:35 a.m. on a mid-October day, and checked into La Concha Hotel,

Mailbox Is Flat As Feet

A mailman's wife should be pretty sympathetic with her husband's life around the holidays. Have a pan of warm water ready for his aching feet when he comes home—get her own cards in the mail early, etc.

Maybe Mrs. Bryan Bailey, wife of the local mail carrier, of 196 Game Dr., Munroe Falls, does feel all this sympathy,—we don't know. What we do know is that she almost rolled on the floor with helpless laughter when a friend backed off-center out of the Bailey's driveway knocking their mailbox flat. Maybe she had visions of all mailboxes being annihilated in the same fashion.

Or maybe it was because the driver of the destructive car, who shall remain nameless, also was the wife of a mailman!

Chief asks Cooperation

'I wish everybody a Happy New Year,' says Chief Woodard of Stow Police 'and a SAFE one!'

'As you know, this is our month for clamping down on drunken drivers throughout Summit County. We hope we don't have to clamp down on anybody here — hope we don't even get a phone call tonight.

'Help us add another year to our three-year record of no fatalities in Stow'

Officials take oath in Munroe Falls

Newly elected to take office January 1.

Village Solicitor John Wolfe is in charge of the ceremony to be held at Munroe Falls Village Hall when the following will be sworn in and take office.

New mayor will be Donald Lyle Jr. 28, born in Stow, 1949 graduate of Stow High School. He attended Kent State University and the Goodyear Apprentice School. Lyle has been a Munroe Falls resident for the past eight years, residing at 173 Munroe Falls Avenue. He is married to the former Nancy Carpenter, and they have two children, Mark, 2, and Patty Ann, nine months. Lyle has served one term on Council and as acting Mayor, and President of Council during the illness of the present Mayor Rodney Keller.

Virginia L. Dove will remain Village Clerk having served in that capacity for the past eleven years. She was born in Memphis, Tennessee, and resides at 170 South River Road with her husband, Daniel. The Doves have three children and six grandchildren.

Esther Towne will take the oath of office as Village Treasurer, a position she has held for the past fourteen years. She was born in Rock Creek, Ohio, graduated from Akron Central High and attended the Goodyear Secretarial School. She and her husband, Perry, have lived in the Village for eighteen years, and now live at 159 Munroe Falls Ave. They have two children: Barbara, a junior at Mt. Union College, and Raymond, a junior at Stow High.

Some new voices will be heard in Stow's Council chambers on Saturday, Jan. 2, at 8:00, when village officials are sworn into office.

Village Solicitor Herman Werner will swear in Mayor Charles Monteith; then the mayor will swear in the councilmen.

Earl F. Garver, Ward 4's Councilman, 1584 Gangl St., has lived 12 years in Stow, is chief accountant at Lawson's, and a member of First Christian Church in Hudson and the Christian Businessmens Committee. He has five children and one foster-son.

Edward C. Montgomery, 2335 Liberty Rd., Maplewood Park, Stow, representing Ward 3, is 40 years old, branch manager and assistant cashier at Portage National Bank in Kent. He is currently president of Stow Businessmens Club and a member of Kent Kiwanis. The Montgomerys have one daughter.

The new council then will have its first meeting, primarily to approve a temporary budget.

Joining old hands Grover Shuman, Ward 1, and Councilmen-at-Large Lawrence Saltis and Wilson Coon, will be Thomas I. Clarke, Ward 2, Edward C. Montgomery, Ward 3, Earl Garver, Ward 4, and Walter B. Kimpton, at-large. Coon is former Village Treasurer.

Thomas I. Clarke, 2599 Call Rd., elected councilman from Ward 1, is 42 years old, a mechanical engineer at Vaughn Machinery Co. He is married, has three children, and has lived in Stow for ten years.

Walter B. Kimpton, 3138 Kent Rd., Councilman-at-Large, is retired Superintendent of Stow Schools, a Lions Club member, and a former member of the Mayor's Citizens Planning Committee.

Everyone who saw it is still talking about the "Living Christmas Tree" program put on at Community Church just before Christmas. It was directed by Mrs. Arthur Yoder, and performed entirely by 60 children.

Each child wore or carried specially treated pine boughs, which, when lighted by "black light" showed only a luminous glow in the shape of the traditional tree.

The tree swayed in rhythm with familiar seasonal music, and had the audience gasping with awe when a luminous giant paper chain made its way around and over the boughs during "Deck The Halls with Boughs of Holly."

During the number "Drummer Boy", only the drumsticks could be seen.

Younger children staged the nativity scene.

Plans are already afoot to repeat the program next year.

A surprise reception was held for Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Pratt, 71 E. Mapledale, Akron, by their daughter, Mrs. Richard Pratt, 4225 Fish Creek Rd., in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

There were some 200 guests present at First Christian Church's Fellowship Hall between 2 and 4 p.m. on Sunday, December 27, including many out-of-towners from Columbus, Willard, Hiram, Cleveland and Kent.

Three close friends of Mrs. Pratt's, Mrs. Joe Perry, Mrs. Kenneth J. Shuman, and Mrs. Alex Paoloni, assisted with pouring and serving.

Decorations were by Neugebauers.

The Co-Op Market in Stow Plaza had to get along without its manager from noon on, on Christmas Eve. Jay Schiffbauer left early to make it home to his parents' house in Hopwood, Pa. for a family Christmas. Back on the job early Monday, however.

When asked how she planned to spend New Year's Day, Katherine Zuppa proclaimed she intended to stay in bed all day! Smatter, Katy? Can't be tired, can you?

Mr. and Mrs. Owen M. Oak, 68 Spray Dr., M.F., are busy, busy, busy, now that he's leased the Gulf Service Station at 3246 Kent Rd. He was formerly with Goodyear Aircraft, while she has been very active in Munroe Falls Garden Club and the Akron Boat Club.

"The Jonah Jones" records will be spinning, tonight, New Year's Eve, in the Norman Russell's recreation room at 3604 Adaline Drive when friends gather to "ring out the old."

A baby girl (7 lb. 9 oz.) joined the family of Dr. and Mrs. Michael Bianco, of 3050 Silverview Drive, Silver Lake... on Sunday night, December, 20th.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard P. Tyler have moved from their Elm Road home to a new one in Brecksville. Before they left, Mrs. Jack Marhofer had a afternoon gathering of neighborhood friends to say farewell to Mrs. Tyler and her mother, Mrs. T. Tarasink.

The K. P. Denholms of Elm Road tried a warm Christmas in Florida this year.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Pratt (l.) greet good friend Mrs. Ray Anderson of Warren, Pa., at their surprise reception. Mrs. Joseph Perry, of Stow, watches the reunion from the background.

The Wayne Bowens of Echo Rd. and the Harold Pines, of Streetsborough Rd., Hudson, sent their Christmas packages off early to their daughter and son, Lois and Bill Pine in Goldsboro, N. Carolina, where he is a master sergeant with the Air Force.

Plenty of packages, enough for two sets of grandparents to make a good showing with three grandchildren. And they arrived on time.

But the young Pines pulled a surprise on their parents—piled all the gifts and children in the car and brought them back unopened so they could all celebrate Christmas together.

Mrs. Bowen says she'll take a surprise like that gladly anytime, but especially at Christmas!

Kroger employees partied after work the Saturday before Christmas. Wives, husbands, and dates joined the group at the "300" Room at Sto-Kent Lanes for an 11 p.m. steak dinner, hooked up a tape recorder for dancing, and even did some bowling till the wee hours. Gene Puson, manager, claims the only thing wrong with the whole party was that it isn't repeated weekly!

Charlotte DuChene, 3815 Hile Rd. took sort of a busman's holiday over the last week. Last Sunday night she entertained her Sunday School Class of 12 three-year-olds at a spaghetti dinner. Then on Monday night, she hosted the holiday party for employees of Prudy's Coffee Shop at her home. We say "busman's holiday" because Charlotte spends her working hours cooking at Prudy's!

Mrs. Veda Adams has been in Louisville, Ky., visiting a friend for the week after the hectic rush in her floral business before Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rampi and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Cox will see the old year out at the annual party held at the Alex Semegen's in the Falls. They expect sauerkraut and ribs at midnight, with both square and round dancing before and after.

Stow Lions Club will have their regular dinner meeting at Town Hall, Jan. 5, at 6:45. It will be regular quarterly closed business meeting with no other program.

The Optimist Creed

Promise Yourself—

- To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.
- To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.
- To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.
- To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.
- To think only of the best, to work only for the best and expect only the best.
- To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.
- To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.
- To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.
- To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.
- To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

Way Back When

by Frank Green

Christmas and New Year's Days have always been times of joy and gladness. When I was a boy, neither day was celebrated so expensively as now, but just as happily.

Christmas was and is, for sober thinking people, the Birthday of a King. We celebrate it religiously, or should.

New Year is Pagan. The old year with all its silly mistakes, is dead. We are glad to be rid of it. So on New Year's Eve, we give the Old Thing a proper send-off with a lot of noise, and some of us get drunk and make fools of ourselves. (I can think of no more senseless thing than to get drunk!)

On New Year's morning in the good old days here in Stow, we kids used to sneak downstairs to be the first to say "Happy New Year!", and we went around to the near-neighbors with the same cheerful greeting.

Another ancient custom has been mostly discarded. Open House was held by all of the "proper" folks in town. A nice lunch was set out, and a hospitable drink offered. If you belonged to the church, the drink was cider (properly hardened) or tea. It was a pleasant ceremony and should be revived instead, in this temperate town, of cocktails. Punch must take the place of that good cider. Nuf sed!

Here's a story that applies to the season:

A slightly inebriated man riding on a train from Philadelphia to Wilmington, asked the conductor, "How far ish Philadelphia from Wilmington, Delaware?"

The conductor told him, "90 miles."

When the conductor came back, the man said, "Please tell me how far it ish from Wilmington, Delaware, to Philadelphia Pa."

The conductor said, "I just told you. 90 miles!"

"Not neshesarily, not neshesarily," said the inebriated one. "It is seven days from Christmas to New Year's, but losh more from New Year's to Christmas!"

Club News

The Familian Club, young people's group of Holy Family Church, will start the New Year with a dance in the church auditorium. Al Day's Orchestra will play from 8:30 to 11:30 on Jan. 1. Tickets are $1.50 per couple.

Stow Players Inc. will meet Tuesday, January 5, at 8:30 p.m. in the Player's Room of Stow Town Hall. A surprise program is being planned by M.J. Higgins, program chairman.

The Board of Public Affairs will be composed of two incumbents Carl Donaldson and Jack Noll, plus newcomer Harold Bond.

Carl Donaldson was born in Munroe Falls, and attended schools in Cuyahoga Falls. He has been employed at the National Rubber Machinery Company of Akron for the past forty years. He is one of the founders of the Fire Department and now holds the rank of Captain. Donaldson has been appointed for another five year term on the Village Planning Commission, and has served for many years on the Board of Public Affairs. He and his wife, Margaret, reside at 120 Munroe Falls Avenue.

Jack Noll, 46, was born in Altoona, Pennsylvania, and attended Carnegie Tech and Purdue Universities. He, his wife Mary Jane, and their four children, moved to the Village thirteen years ago when he took the position of Safety Director for the Hankin Container Company. Harold Bond, 44, was born in Pennsylvania, and attended Akron schools. He moved to Munroe Falls in 1942 and in 1945 founded The H. C. Bond Lumber and Building Supply Company, located on North Main Street. He, his wife, Dixie, and their two sons, Gerald and Roger, reside at 145 North River Road.

San Juan, at 10 p.m. that night. The trip was a gift from Dick's mother, who attached only one string to it—that they write every day so she could keep up with them via the mail.

Tadmor Temple Golden Foz Trip was the official name for their vacation. (Dick was appointed Captain of the Guard on Dec. 5 by Potentate Knoch.) Companions were all members of the same shrine.

Ellen (Mrs. Hudson) says there were so many highlights to their stay it's impossible to single them out. The sight of native women washing clothes at water's edge, then carrying them on their heads, was a picture come to life. A native dinner, including a whole roast pig—being entertained by the original steel band—seeing a cock fight

Juan Casellas, who had just set a world championship record by landing a 512 lb. blue marlin on 50 lb. test line.

Another is flying to Ponce with the other Akron shriners to be aguests at a lodge meeting conducted all in Spanish. Still another is the trip to the Rain Forest, conservation bamboo for-—all added to the "exotic" quality of their visit.

Anyone can see that Ellen Hudson (l.) and Mrs. "Mike" Boyd of Hudson, O., enjoyed themselves.

The steel band was made up of empty oil drums, cut to different heights for different tonal qualities, and has been much imitated since it began.

Language proved no barrier to the Judsons though they speak no Spanish, as Puerto Ricans in shops and restaurants all seem proficient in English.

Since San Juan has had a woman mayor, they found it had been given a good house cleaning. Formerly it was plagued with a reputation for squalid conditions, but now appears spotless. The mayor looks quite Spanish, and wears the traditional comb in her hair, even while on the job.

Hudsons noticed many cars in San Juan with stickers indicating Puerto Rico's wish to become the 51st state in the union. However, many businessmen wish to keep the favorable tax laws and generous financial support that would be withdrawn when it became a state, and work against the idea.

One of Dick's memorable highlights is a trip he took on the fishing boat belonging to

Karl Knoch, Potentate of Tadmor Temple (l.) and Dick Hudson on the beach at San Juan est, established by the CCC, where the rainfall is 75%.

Dick, who spends most of the year in automotive merchandise control at Goodyear, and Ellen, who works as the manager's secretary at Stow's First National Bank branch, both were interested to find the minimum wage in Puerto Rico about 35¢ an hour.

"A heavenly place," Ellen says of Puerto Rico. "No bugs! Really, not enough bugs to support birds!"

Perfect weather, with temperatures averaging 85 to 90, an occasional light rainfall, poinsettias and hibiscus plants growing in wild abundance, afternoon siestas, and a half-pineapple, freshly picked, for breakfast—no wonder the Hudsons are ready for a return visit to Puerto Rico any time now!

Terry Talks of High

by Terry McIntyre

What a wonderful, glorious Christmas! Everyone is bubbling over with excitement from parties, open houses, and carol sings. Once again we woke Christmas morning to find brilliantly wrapped packages tied with delicate bows, and on that little tag hidden beneath the ribbon we found our own name. Then came the happy feeling when you discovered the surprise within the package.

I wonder what Dixie Henning will create with her new set of oil paints. Jackie Horner will probably get her homework done now that she has a new desk. Norma and Bill Nickol won't have an excuse for being late to classes—they both got watches from Santa. Linda Reed is hoping for cold weather so she can show off her new car coat. She isn't the only one hoping for snow; my family is more than anxious to try our new taboggan. John Miller doesn't care about the weather, all he wants is time to play with his new table tennis set. Sandy Bender is waiting for an invitation to a slumber party so she can use some of her Christmas luggage.

I feel sorry for the poor teachers. The last week of school they received lots of Christmas gifts, but I don't think they were the kind they appreciate. For Mrs. Kaufman the gifts consisted of two-thousand word themes on subjects ranging from sports cars to autobiographies. She also got about ninety book reports to grade. Miss Fry received all sorts of projects. Some students made Elizabethan stages while others dressed dolls in fifteenth century costumes. The book reports turned in to Miss Fry were in the interesting form of a book jacket. On the cover the ambitious students drew pictures or illustrations and the reports were on the inside flap.

Lucky Mrs. Andreson got away from all the school business. She and Mr. Andreson and their daughter Linda spent Christmas in Berkley, California with their oldest daughter Carol. They hope to stop in Los Angeles and see the Rose Parade, then come back through Arizona and New Mexico.

Well tonight is Bernie Czaroski's party and probably a lot of others, I know everyone will have a lot of fun seeing the New Year.

Happy New Year!

COPS GIVE KIDS A CHRISTMAS

It was Ronnie Harper, Captain of Stow Police, who was behind the whiskers for some of the children this year.

Actually, the whole Police Department had a hand in taking care of the children of five Stow families who would have had a lean holiday otherwise.

From donations of toys and cash from local merchants and individuals who prefer to remain anonymous; the department had about three toys each for five, six, and seven children from each family. Addition of fuel oil and some clothing was possible for some.

"Everything was new", said Chief Bob Woodard. "Some toys were slightly imperfect, or last year's models, but everything worked, and nothing had been used."

"We delivered everything ourselves," he added, "and Ronnie had the whole outfit—red suit, whiskers, and jolly ho-ho!"

LANES LINGO

Honors for high bowling score of the week go to Helen Preto, who rolled a 223, and J. Bucov. with men's high individual score of 225.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT BOWLING?

Even though you bowl in the 200's, and can keep score like an IBM machine, can you answer these behind-the-scenes questions?

1. How long and how wide is a bowling lane?
2. What kinds of wood are in a lane?
3. How often must a lane be re-finished?
4. How many holes should a bowling ball have?
5. What is the average age of a bowling pin?
6. What shape is a bowling ball?
7. What's the size of the triangle where pins sit?
8. What are pins made of?

ANSWERS TO BOWLING QUIZ

1. 62 ft., 10 3/16 inches long, from foul line to pit edge. 60 ft. from foul line to center of No. 1 pin spot. From 41 to 42 inches wide.
2. Hard maple — 1st 14 feet and last 3 feet, pine in between for better spin.

STOW HAS CHAMPION TREE

If trees could talk, what a tale they could tell about the past. One Summit County black gum tree here in Stow has recently been confirmed as the new Ohio State Champion Gum Tree by Robert R. Taton, Forester of Ohio Forestry Association, Inc. This tree is located on Route 5 at Wetmore Park in Stow.

The former champion, believed to be the oldest living thing in Cuyahoga County, came to an end last summer. It was a black gum tree in Chagrin Valley Metropolitan Park. The tree measured 10' x 7½" in circumference 4½ feet above ground. A cross section showed 534 annual rings making it 68 years old when Columbus discovered America.

The new black gum champion was nominated for this honor by J. G. Lichty, President of Stow Park Board, for both the county and state contest. It has a circumference of 7' 8". Assuming it grew at the same rate as the old champ, its age would now be 385 years, or about 200 years old at the time of the Revolutionary War.

The Summit County Big Tree contests, conducted by the Akron Men's Garden Club in the past two years, has resulted in four state champions, bringing the total for the county to six. This is topped only by Scioto County with eight state champs. Chairman of the 1959 contest was Carl Mast, with Robert Koch, secretary.

Z.M. BAER PLAYS SANTA

It's good to know that Santa had a willing helper in Stow, as his orders were so heavy this year, he might not have filled them all otherwise. Here is a copy of the letter Z. M. Baer, 3979 Hudson Dr., received from S. Claus:

To: Z. M. Baer:

Chuck Baer:

As I know you have a shop, will you help me, as I have so many things to do.

Marilyn Orcutt wants a baby bed and hutch cupboard.

Hoping you can help me,
I am

Santa Claus.

(Mr. Baer's granddaughter's name just happens to be Marilyn Orcutt.)

So, Z. M. Baer, a retired test driver from Goodyear, with the help of his son Chuck, went to work on some solid maple, and they came up with the hutch cupboard and cradle shown in the picture. About 40 hours of work were involved, and no nails were used.

Lucky Santa, that Mr. Baer has carpentry for his hobby, and lucky Marilyn, that Santa knew where to write!

LUCKY BIKE WINNER

Winner of the bicycle given away on Christmas Eve by Person's Atlantic Service was Lucille Spuhler, 3106 Harriet Ave. With Mrs. Spuhler are her husband and three of the four children, ranging in ages from 2 to 8.

Holding the winner's ticket at the time of the drawing are Nan Gaylord and Roger Frederick King and Queen of the recent Senior Y-Teen Christmas Formal at Stow High School.
