

Mayor Explains Mullins Release; Cites Two Injuries, Lack Of Fitness

The government of Stow, within the short span of four years, has transcended from township to village, and will soon assume city status, with a population now in excess of 12,000 and rapidly growing. To keep pace with its tremendous expansion, the officials of Stow have worked countless long hours to solve its increasing municipal problems.

A most important branch of government is law enforcement. Regrettably, because of lack of finances, the personnel of our police department, consisting of only seven regular and ten special policemen, had to individually perform tremendous services. The statistics on law violations, arrests, and convictions are accurately kept, and available for public inspection.

The law of Ohio provides that one desirous of becoming a police officer must serve a six month continuous probationary period, after which the mayor, with the concurrence of council, may remove or finally appoint the probationer.

It is common knowledge that a police officer is subject to call 24 hours per day. His work is arduous, dangerous, and continuous. Regrettably, we are not all qualified to be police officers because physical fitness is a prime requisite.

My decision not to recommend the final appointment of Mr. Mullins was made after full and complete deliberation with the safety committee of council.

The determining factor in this decision was a lack of full and complete physical fitness, since the current incident involves the second serious injury in the line of duty, the first having taken place in another locality.

The citizens of Stow, who pay the bills, are entitled to police officers who are not retarded by physical disability. It is not a personal matter, but a decision based solely on what is best for the public good.

C. H. Monteith,
Mayor

All is quiet in the city
When the business world is hushed
And the trade doors click their latches
As traffic to the suburbs rushed.
Models watch with frozen faces
Lights control the empty street,
Hear the hollow sound on pavement
Wide expanse of grey concrete.
It's so restful in the city
When the week-end settles down.
But the country folk return,
Monday, everyone is back in town.

Biedlers Return From Philippines Family Camped Through Europe

By Kathy Martin

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sam Biedler, 3603 Darrow Rd., and family (Mary, 17, Karen, 16, Dan, 15, and John, 13) have returned to Stow after spending an exciting two years living in Iloilo, Philippines.

Sam, on leave from Kent State University to Stanford University in Palo Alto, Cal., was assigned to help set up a teacher education program, organizing student teaching centers in the Philippines, under Stanford's government contract. His phase was Industrial Arts. Others handled agriculture.

The family lived on the campus of the Iloilo School of Arts and Trades.

Now back at Kent State, Mr. Biedler will be active in the Education Department supervising the student teacher program and conducting a seminar once a week.

Many interesting hobbies were started on this trip, including collections of colored slides, baskets, shells, paintings and all types of literature on the islands.

The trip home, beginning May 2, was a "round the world in two months" family camping trip through Europe. This adventuresome family lived out of suitcases and enjoyed every city and country their Volkswagen Microbus carried them to. (We will follow up on a special story in the near future on their exciting camping tour.)

On returning to the "old neighborhood" Aug. 25, a special "Let's get acquainted with our new neighbors" cookout was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Willmott, 3611 Darrow Rd. This get-together was attended by the Biedler family as guests of honor, the Imhoffs and Cheslocks, and introduced two new families, the Francis Kuhn family including six children, one of whom was a 10-day old baby, and Mr. and Mrs. William Pile and their two daughters.

How Parliamentary Law Protects You!

With the beginning of the new club year, and so many clubs starting off again with renewed energy and bigger plans than ever to accomplish a variety of aims, we urge club members to learn the fundamentals of parliamentary law.

We quote from a leaflet put out by The Christophers on the subject, How Parliamentary Law Protects You!

"Parliamentary Law has an enormous potential for championing the God-given rights of the least individual."

"Matters that affect the common good of all can be discussed in a courteous, dignified and competent manner."

"Discussion is limited to one issue at a time."

"Group decisions can be reached within a reasonable

RESIDENTS TO PLAT BOOK

To the Editor:

In answer to the plea of Betty Sarff in your issue of September 1st to clarify whether Charring Cross Drive should be spelled with one or two "r's", I refer anyone so concerned to look at Plat Book 45, Page 158, Summit County Records of Plats.

The original plat of this subdivision is spelled "Charring". The street name thereon is spelled "Charring".

I regret to suggest that whoever spells this street "Charing" is dropping a most essential "r".

I am reminded of the person who proclaimed that there is only one word in the English language where the letters SU are pronounced "shoo" and that word is sugar. Someone forthwith answered—"Are you sure?"

Without P. L., bedlam often results; few individuals tend to dominate; the shy become disheartened; wrangling impedes progress; and many members begin to regard meetings as a waste of time and no longer attend.

1633 GRAHAM ROAD, STOW OHIO

Way Back When

by Frank Green

About 20 years ago a story of the Grahams in Stow that I wrote was published in the Community Church News. This sketch is mostly a rewrite, but I hope will add some interest to the tale.

John Graham was born in Paisley, Scotland, May 11, 1776, (read the Bronson book in our library for interesting items about his early life.)

He came to the United States in 1804 and to Stow Township in 1806. He bought lot 44 of Judge Wetmore. This is the 2nd lot west from the north and south center road and lies on the north side of what we now call Graham Road.

(Note: The center of Stow is not at the crossing of Darrow and Graham roads, but a little north where Stow Road branches off from Darrow.)

John Graham was 30 years old when he came here. He lived alone in the log cabin he built until 1814 when he married Margaret Stewart, a sister of Joshua Stow. (Read the Bronson book in connection with my story.) Their 1st child William was born in the log house May 10, 1815.

In 1816 the Grahams left their farm and moved to Munroe Falls. John built another log house here and a distillery. He had worked in the winters for Judge Wetmore in his distillery till the Judge decided that whiskey was not good for his hired men.

Three more children were born in the house at Munroe Falls. John Graham died in 1824. His wife was 11 years younger than he was.

Not long after his death Mrs. Graham brought her children back to the farm. She lived there the rest of her life. She died in 1867. Undoubtedly she had the house, now the home of Donald Morris built after she came back there so it could not have been built before 1825.

Her oldest son William married Belinda Butler. I have not the date, but their oldest child Henry Butler was born in 1834. William was then 27. He may have bought the farm on the south side of Graham Road and built the house, now the home of Robert Jarmusch (their number is 1670.), a short time before his marriage. The court records would show when the land was bought.

William Graham lived in this house the rest of his life. He died in 1882. He was then 67 years old. Before telling more of him and his sons I will go back to the John Graham place. This was the home of William's brother Maxwell and his fine family. The mother lived with him. Maxwell married Mary Taplin, an Akron girl. They had 4 sons and one girl. Stewart, the oldest boy, died when he was 24, but John, George, and Mary and their 2 cousins across the way, Henry and Will, all grew up here in town. They attended the Stow Corners school. They didn't belong to the Disciple Church, but mixed in all social gatherings. I am sure there has never been a more popular family living in Stow.

(More about the Grahams next week.)

DON'T
OVERLOADRecreational Boaters Alerted
To Waterways Know-How

Arch N. Cupler, A. P., U.S.N. R., retired, has agreed to take over this column this week in view of the tremendously grow-

Arch N. Cupler on duty at the Coast Guard Station in Cleveland.

The sport of recreational boating is growing with such speed that marinas, law enforcement and educational facilities are falling behind. Too many new and, for that matter, older boaters are completely unaware of the fact that boating has rules and regulations similar to traffic laws for highways.

Also the waterways have signs similar to traffic and road signs. Ignorance of these rules and regulations can bring trouble and danger to the boater. The lack of even elementary safety knowledge is beyond belief.

This is brought home to me very forcefully each time I stand a voluntary eight hour watch at the U. S. Coast Guard Life Boat Station at Cleveland. I do this voluntary duty as a member of ing sport of boating. Mr. Cupler lives at 1359 Housley Rd., Stow, and will be happy to receive calls about any phase of boating at OV 8-8898.

the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary.

Some of the foolhardy stunts I witness make my few hairs stand on end. Lack of knowledge of the laws, rules and regulations and the correct safety practices is totally unnecessary.

Every year several courses are conducted by the Akron Power Squadron, a unit of United States Power Squadrons, and the Akron Flotilla of the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. These courses are free to the public and are worth gold to the boater.

The fact that I am the Safety Officer of the Akron Power Squadron and an Inspector-Examiner for the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary may tend to make me a little more conscious of these matters. However safety is a problem we must observe in all activities.

The following are a few, and just a few, tips for boating safety:

Do not overload your boat.

Do not overpower your boat.

Do not stand up in small boats.

Do not cowboy or operate in a reckless manner.

Do not pull a waterskier without an observer as well as an operator in boat.

Do not go out if weather is threatening.

Do not go far offshore in too small a boat.

Do not heave an anchor. Lower it carefully.

Do not anchor in channels.

Do not tie up to buoys. It is illegal.

Do learn rules and regulations.

Do keep your boat shipshape.

Do carry all legal equipment

Start Pilot Classes

Akron Power Squadron announces two new courses in piloting for any interested skipper. The courses will last 12-13 weeks, begin at 7 p. m. on Monday, Sept. 12 at East Branch YMCA and Tuesday, Sept. 13 at the West Branch of the library. There is no charge.

A spokesman for APS says he hopes many new boaters will take the course, as ignorance of the waterways lead to accidents, which in turn lead to stricter legal action, with the trend eventually to hamper the fun everyone could have with proper education and accident prevention.

demanding by law plus those additional items recommended by the U. S. Coast Guard.

Do make sure there are no gas fumes in the bilges (inboards primarily).

Do inspect boat, equipment, gas lines, engine etc. before starting out.

Do carry a first aid kit, tool kit and small parts liable to let you down.

These are just a few pointers that the informed boater gives attention to automatically. Don't let these words discourage you. In a short time all these habits will become automatic. Boating is a wonderful sport and can, under the proper conditions, be the best nerve tonic you ever had. It is a wonderful family sport. Let's keep it that way. Remember the three "C's" Courtesy, Common Sense, Co-operation.

Yours for Safe Boating thru Education. Have fun!

More on boating later if you wish it. Contact the writer for free educational courses and information.

Munroe Falls Pipeline

by Vanda A. Wilson

Nineteen members of Scout Troop 175, along with Troop leaders, Chester Cross, James Cross, Robert White, Carroll Sallaz and Russell Richards, spent the week-end of August 26, at West Harbor, on Lake Erie, fishing, swimming, boating and camping. A grand time was had by all!

Mrs. William Cundiff, and her two small children, from Warsaw, Indiana, are visiting her parents, the Snowden Klines' North Main Street.

Larry Cross, 1959 Stow graduate, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Cross, 136 Carmia, recently hitchhiked to the West Coast, and made it in six days. It was quite an experience, as his father had done the same thing a number of years ago.

The Church Board and Trustees of the Munroe Falls Methodist Church met August 30, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. George Mayer, 70 South River Rd.

Postmaster Evelyn Wilt, and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Luzius, spent a week recently vacationing at Cedar Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown, 49 Pinehurst, are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Aug. 4, at Akron City Hospital. The new baby weighed seven pounds, twelve ounces at birth and has been named Nancy Jean. Little Nancy has a baby brother, Kenneth, aged twenty-one months.

Labor Day houseguests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCue, South Main Street, were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Crites and Mr. and Mrs. Burnam Cutright, of Buckhannon, West Virginia.

MRS. HEINBAUGH IS 4 GALLON DONOR

Mrs. Lester Heinbaugh, 196 Hunter Street, has received recognition from the Akron Red Cross, for having become a 4 Gallon Blood Donor. Back in 1953 Mrs. Heinbaugh started making the rounds of hospitals and clinics and donating blood where it was needed and at such time she could give it. For some nine years she was employed as a nurses aide at the Summit County Home in Munroe Falls. She and her husband have two grown daughters, Barbara, a fourth grade teacher at Riverview School, and Marylou, now Mrs. Ed Pace, and a small son, live in New Jersey. We of the Village are very proud of such good citizens, friends and neighbors, as Mrs. Heinbaugh.

Birthday congratulations to the following - Sept. 11, Mrs. Stanley Messersmith, 95 Munroe Falls Avenue; Sept. 18, Mrs. Carl Zimmerman, 128 Munroe Falls Avenue; Sept. 19, Mrs. Herbert Lauer, 224 Munroe Falls Ave.; Sept. 22, Charles Chapman (10) 3527 Orchard Dr.; Sept. 24, Robert Whitfield (15) 89 Northmoreland; Sept. 24, Larry LeMaster (15) 98 Northmoreland; Sept. 24, Fred Schuett (16) 26 Bermont; Sept. 30, Vanda Wilson, 58 Northmoreland; Sept. 21, David Whitfield (7) 89 Northmoreland.

HIGH WAYS

by Terry Moore

How do you like the rut we're back into, fellows? Did you enjoy the first two days of school? Did you find yourself in many of the wrong classes at the wrong time? Good luck this year at school kids. Did you go to Barberton last Monday to see the Labor Day Parade? If you did you found the Stow High Band marching grandly through town. The band members started 2 days ahead of most of us, getting back in the old routine because they were at the school at 7:30 Monday morning.

Some Snatches Of News

If you didn't go to the scrimmage with Revere last Friday night you missed a lot of fun. It was great to see all your old friends again before school started. The band and the cheerleaders did a marvelous job pepping us all up in the "chilly" weather.

A few club cabinets such as the Sr. Y-Teen and F.T.A. have had pre-school meetings to plan activities for September already.

Judy Thomas, Pam Weber, Linda Henderson and Donna Walters visited Virginia Beach in the last few weeks. They swam in the Atlantic Ocean along miles and miles of white, sandy beach.

Mary and Karen Biedler are home from the Philippines. We'll be hearing more about them and their family's trip around the world. Mary will be a senior at Kent State High School and Karen will be a junior at Stow High. Carol Brendon had a small welcoming party for Mary.

Nancy Rearick spent a week at Chippewa Lake Park.

John Moore was in the hospital for another operation between college sessions.

Have you noticed quite a few Stow High girls have begun wearing contact lenses during the past year?

Robyn Reinhart, Sharon Brazelton and Nancy Rearick have had theirs some time, but just this past summer, Cathy Crow, Carol Brandon, Pat Herman, Karen Kingan, and Mary Ann Kaufman have them.
