

Juniors Fight Fire By Prevention

National Fire Prevention Week (October 9-15) is here again, and with it the grim reminder that more than 11,000 lives and one billion dollars worth of property are wiped out each year by fire.

No matter where it strikes, fire is a major threat to our daily lives. The real tragedy, however, is that many lives and much property could be saved if only we'd take preventive measures against fire—or know what to do in case it breaks out.

Here in Stow there is a young and earnest brigade of 8-to-10 year olds who this week are taking up the cudgels in behalf of fire safety for the whole school year. These are the Junior Fire Marshals, who during Fire Prevention Week organize to seek out and eliminate fire hazards in their homes.

These boys and girls are serious about fire safety. Not only are they playing an important part in helping to prevent costly fires, but they are also forming good habits which will last into adulthood.

The Junior Fire Marshal program was created nationally as a public service by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, which this year marks its 150th anniversary. This program, designed to teach boys and girls the rudiments of fire prevention, is sponsored in Stow by Oakley Spaght, Inc., in cooperation with elementary schools and the fire department under Chief Saxe.

A public service program such as this is of tremendous significance to Stow as well as to the nation. The lessons that our Junior Fire Marshals will carry into adulthood and the training in fire safety given each year's new group of youngsters make it so.

We salute these young fire prevention enthusiasts and pledge them the support and encouragement they need and deserve.

Players' Suspense Drama Successful

By Peg Knight

Two newcomers to the stage share honors of being outstanding performers in Stow Players' "The House on the Cliff", which opened a three-weekend run at Town Hall last Friday night.

Carol Schuellerman was so charming and believable as the mystery-story reading nurse that when she smiled, which she often did, it was to a housefull of audience warmly smiling back in the dark.

Betty Groce, marvelously changed from her usually soignée appearance to a greying and sour housekeeper, played smoothly and consistently.

The play started slowly, often a handicap in mysteries while the author sets the stage for future horrors. A change of pace between Evelyn Tucker, lovely looking invalid, and Thora Mills who capably played her step-mother, would have helped their scenes together.

Joe Yourkoski and Fred Sanborn, both playing doctors, handled their roles effectively.

Especially deserving of praise is the technical staff who designed and executed a clever stage for many shenanigans I cannot describe without giving away the plot.

Suspense mounted as the acts moved on, until the surprising (as it should be in a mystery) denouement. The last act had many on the edges of their chairs, and we can't say enough how we'd hate to hear Carol scream anywhere except on stage.

"The House on the Cliff" thoughtfully directed by Frank Godfrey, runs Fridays and Saturdays for the next two weekends.

will contact residents of the Northmoreland area to see just how many of them wish the service.

Some Munroe Manor Estates residents were present to tell that conditions are being corrected in their homes. Council had made a tour of their homes recently finding defective wiring and other undesirable conditions.

Council approved the paving of Bermont Avenue and Lindsey Road, which will get underway this week.

Council recommended to State Highway officials that the 25 mile-an-hour speed limit be extended north on Rt. 91 from N. River Rd. to Gaylord Dr. due to the entry of school buses north and south at North River Road.

Police will enforce the 1958 Village ordinance prohibiting the firing of firearms in the corp. limits. Any shooting on private properties also is banned without the written permission of the property owner.

Council passed an ordinance on anti-noise, making anyone liable to a $10 to $50 fine for disturbing the peace.

LOSSIE O. VAN METER NAMED POLICE CHIEF

At the Oct. 4 meeting of Village Council, Lossie O. Van Meter, was appointed Police Chief, presented a shiny new badge and given $100 a month raise, from $300 to $400. On May 25 Van Meter was appointed head of the Village Police Dept. and told his status would be reviewed by Council after proving himself after a few months on the job. He is the first full-time policeman in Village history. With this appointment Van Meter resigned his additional job of Village Hall Custodian and three applications are already in for that job.

William D. Younkin, having completed his probationary period, was confirmed by Council as patrolman.

E. J. Burke of East Ohio Gas Co. told Council prospects for extending the gas lines on Northmoreland, Highland Ave. and S. River Rd., were slim, until at least next spring, stating that the company now has more requests for hook-up than it can handle. Councilman Earl Wilson

To Acknowledge Fire Prevention Week Let's Honor The Chief, Ralph H. Saxe

Half a century ago, on a 100 acre strip of woods and fields that is now the site of Mogadore Dam, the Saxe family lived. Ralph, one of seven boys and two girls, was born May 10, 1910. Today he is the highest in rank in the Stow Fire Department.

Active in sports, Ralph was chosen president of his graduating class at Suffield High in 1928. Five years later he began working for B. F. Goodrich Co. where he is still affiliated.

In 1933 Ralph married Mary Hites, a native of Stow. Their son Dick, now 26, also serves Stow as a patrolman on the police force.

Ralph's favorite hobby is coon-hunting, so that every opportunity finds him in Sandy Lake, Pa., where he can indulge this pastime.

He is also a part-time woodworker of such caliber that he built a beautiful wood and stone ranch home alone, where he and Mrs. Saxe now live, at 3445 Hiwood Rd.

With over 27 years devoted to the Stow Fire Department, Ralph can recall when there was no existing station. The fire truck was housed in different small garages. Later organization took place and residents of Stow contributed money and the Stow Station was built in April, 1933, on donated land. The appointment of Chief came on April 1, 1956. Today he heads a group of five captains and 22 volunteers.

The Chief's greatest pet peeve is grass and brush fires. "Of all calls pertaining to these, 99% could be avoided," he says. "If people would only be more careful and, above all, would not leave these fires unattended!"

METHODIST CHURCH TO GET NEW MINISTER

On Sun., Oct. 16, Rev. Gilbert Roberts of Cuy. Falls will replace Rev. George Mayer as pastor of the Munroe Falls Methodist Church. Rev. Mayer has served the Methodist Church here for the past seventeen years and is presently a patient at Akron City Hospital.

Rev. Roberts is a retired school teacher and one time superintendent of Cuyahoga Falls schools.

Chief Ralph H. Saxe

He explains that negligence of these fires result in expense, danger and extra firemen's time, meaning a heavier taxpayer's burden. Though an ardent fireman, he deplores such negligence.

Chief and Mrs. Saxe are planning a vacation to Florida, though the date hasn't been set.

Stow '45 Reunion

About 90 people attended the Stow Class of '45 reunion held at the Chesterfield Motel Sat., Oct. 8, when nostalgic music of Glenn Miller, Harry James and Tommy Dorsey was featured.

Cal Batton, class president, introduced guests of honor W. P. Kimpton, former superintendent of Stow schools, and Miss Velma Workman, senior advisor.

Master of Ceremonies Robert Becker awarded prizes to alums Jean Blackwelder Anderson, for traveling the farthest to the reunion (she came from Florida); to Larry Folk for the least amount of hair remaining; to Arlene Cross Shuman for the most children (7); to Betty Sarff and Dorothea Helman for the smallest waistlines (exact measurements not released).

TOUGH, BUT NECESSARY

in Jarow, England, in 1958, a man with active TB stubbornly refused all treatment. When health officers found that he had infected three children, the city magistrate ordered him into a sanatorium. In Oxford, February of this year, a mother with active tuberculosis, who repeatedly failed to keep her appointments at a chest clinic, despite a great deal of coaxing, was also sent to a hospital under a court order. So much for England.

In the U. S., 39 states have laws which can put a patient with infectious TB into a hospital for treatment, if he refuses to go voluntarily after all possible persuasion has been used. If he goes AWOL before the doctors are ready to discharge him, he can be brought back.

For two countries which put personal liberty on a pedestal, such action seems outrageous. How come no protest marches, no picket lines, no angry letters to the editor?

Well, the laws are aimed at the disease, not the patient. And the laws are clearly as necessary to the health of a community as those which require landlords to keep their buildings safe and sanitary. TB is a highly infectious disease, more so than leprosy for example. On the other hand, a patient who has received prompt and adequate treatment is not infectious at all.

Way Back When

by Frank Green

OLD MAIDS

An "Unwed Blessing", a dear friend of mine who has never married calls herself. Fern has likely passed her harvest time and is quite content to live alone and not have a man to boss and feed.

Starting way back in antiquity I will briefly mention one of the oldish girls who has attracted my attention.

Miriam was the sister of Moses and Aaron. She is supposed to be the one who put the baby Moses into the bullrushes where he was found by Pharaoh's daughter. She led the big chorus of women in their song of deliverance when they marched out of Egypt. I think she was much older than Moses. She outlived him too and he was 120 when he died. Read your Bible story of this lively old girl.

The story of Elizabeth, the so called Virgin Queen of England, is interesting, often thrilling. She was 25 years old when she became Queen. She succeeded her half-sister Mary. They were daughters of King Henry VIII. This stubborn old fellow had quarreled with the Pope and broken away from the Catholic Church and made himself head of what he named the Church of England. His 1st wife was Catherine of Aragon. She was a devout Spanish Catholic. They had many children, but all girls.

Henry wanted a male heir so he divorced Catherine and married Anne Boleyn an Austrian Protestant. (If any of you are interested read your English history. I must keep to my text, "Old Maids".) Henry got no male heirs, so when he died his oldest girl Mary became Queen.

Like her mother, Mary was an ardent Catholic. She restored Catholic Church as the state religion. Because she persecuted the Protestants she was known as Bloody Mary. She hated her sister Elizabeth and tried to get rid of her. Fortunately she only lived for 5 years after she became Queen and then Elizabeth followed her to the throne. She quickly restored the Church of England as the State Church.

This was a time of tense religious strife in both England and Scotland. She was not so intolerant as Mary, but she had reason to fear and hate Catholicism. I have never forgiven her for having Mary Queen of Scots executed when the poor Queen fled to England for safety. I think Elizabeth was a smart, but very conceited and naughty girl. The young fellows who tried to win favors from her by flattery had a hard time of it and risked their lives if they offended her. She asked a Scotchman who was the prettiest, she or Mary. His answer was a model of diplomacy, "You are the prettiest in England, she in Scotland."

I especially remember two nice old girls who never married.

Caroline Thomas was born in 1827 in Stow Township. I am sure she spent all her life here. Her father and mother, Calvin and Nancy, were charter members of the Disciple (Christian Church). She and her sister, Mrs. Wilson Willis, were early members of it. Caroline died when she was 50 years old - in 1877 - Frank was 9 years old then. Caroline came to our house to help my mother. She was darned a big basket of stockings. All at once she broke out, "I've darned and darned the darned old things till I'm tired of darned the darned things." This is my only memory of her.

Sally Stow was 4 years older than Caroline - born in 1823 - and lived much longer. She was a niece of my grandfather. She spent much of her life helping her friends and relatives. What I recall best of her was her mustache. The best one I ever saw on a woman, but she was a nice old girl. I have known - I still know - some lovely spinsters. Perhaps they are smarter than their married sisters.

Marc Arnold Returns From European Singing Tour

Marc Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Arnold, 4571 Kent Rd., a Stow High graduate of 1959, was one of 20 members of the Bethany College Choir to travel through Germany, sponsored by the U. S. Army, and to represent their church school in the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ at Edinburgh, Scotland.

In addition to a tour of all points of interest in Germany, Marc and three other choir members stayed an extra week, hiring a car for a special side-tour into Switzerland and France. The entire trip for the "Touring Twenty", as the choir was called, lasted six weeks.

Marc is now back at Bethany in West Virginia, where he is a sophomore, taking liberal arts and business administration courses.

Welcome New Neighbors

Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Kincaid (Claudia) moved to Stow two weeks ago from Akron to make their home at 3850 Highland Avenue. The Kincaids have been in Stow in the jewelry business since 1958 when they purchased the Stow Jewelry Store in the Holt Bldg., now have Kincaid Jewelry in the Stow-Kent Shopping Center. Ray became interested in sales in Akron University classes after graduation from South High, and interested in jewelry through a friend in that business. He is an active member of Stow Businessmens Club, Rotary and Boosters, and is interested in all sports. He spent three years in the Special Services of the U. S. Army, serving in Germany, Russia, Holland and Africa.

Claudia is a graduate of North High in Akron, also attended Akron U. studying education. She especially enjoys buying trips to New York, where they attend Broadway shows, and locally enjoys attending all sporting events, especially basketball and football. Kincaids have one daughter, Kimberly, who is nearly three.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Busch (Elaine), 3496 Edgewood Dr., hail from New Jersey originally, but lived in Massachusetts for two years before moving to Stow Aug. 1. Mr. Busch served four years in the Caribbean area for the U. S. Navy, and is a chemical engineer with the Enjay Co., an affiliate of Standard Oil of New Jersey. He is a graduate of Lehigh University where he majored in mechanical engineering.

Elaine is a graduate of State Teachers College, New Jersey, an educational major, and has had one year of experience teaching first grade. The Busch family also included one year old Steven. They enjoy all sports including golf and bowling, and especially look forward to an evening of bridge.

Speaking of bridge, Mrs. Busch was the winner of the special award at Holy Family's Pigskin Party recently --- two tickets to the Notre Dame - Pittsburgh football game Nov. 5 at South Bend. That's a welcome every new neighbor doesn't get! We hope they enjoy the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bergstrom (Janet), 2322 Elizabeth Dr., moved to Stow from Lakewood, N. Y. on May 1. Mr. Bergstrom, a January, 1960, graduate of Ohio University, is an architectural engineer for Ohio Edison Co. of Akron. Janet is a graduate of Fredonia State Teachers College, Fredonia, N. Y., where she majored in vocal music education and piano.

Janet now teaches voice and instruments in the Stow school system, and finds time to devote to eight piano pupils in her home.

Both Bergstroms find relaxation bowling with the Maplewood Park League. Bob is active in Maplewood Park Mens Club, and enjoys all water sports. They celebrated their first wedding anniversary in August.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gross, 3577 E. Kent Rd., residents of Stow for eight years, are at present traveling throughout Europe on an extended vacation.

The high point of their trip will be the 28 days they will be permitted to visit their families who now live in Communist-occupied Hungary. Special permission for this visit had to be obtained from Washington, D.C., and may not be extended past the allotted 28 days.

Mr. Gross was a mold maker at Akron Standard Mold Co. for 12 years before his recent retirement.

The Grosses plan to return to Stow late in October. Their round trip ocean voyage will be aboard the liner United States.

Last Friday afternoon, Kenny Williams, 4½ year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, 3758 Kauffman Rd., was accidentally struck on the forehead by a swing and had to be taken to Childrens Hospital for several stitches.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Addison, 3748 Iona Dr., were guests of daughter Mrs. Ross Holden for a family dinner held Sunday, Oct. 9, when Mrs. Addison celebrated her 81st birthday. Present were four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Holden also honored daughter-in-law Barbara Nanashe Holden, who will celebrate her birthday October 14.

Rev. William Wolfe officiated at the marriage of Carolyn Jane Clarke, daughter of Mrs. James M. Clarke and the late James M. Clarke of 2025 Liberty Rd., Stow, and Grant L. McMahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMahan of Clymer, Pa., at Community Church of Stow on Sept. 24 at 3:30 p.m.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Daniel Clarke.

She wore a white peau-de-sole gown with a Chantilly lace bodice, a Sabrina neckline and 3/4 length sleeves, and carried a white orchid with lilies-of-the-valley on a white Bible. (The bride made her own gown.)

Honor attendant was Miss Margaret Seamens of Williams-ville, N. Y., a former Stow resident. She wore an ice blue brocaded taffeta dress and matching veil hat, carrying a Colonial bouquet of fall flowers.

Best man was Sam Good of Pittsburg, Pa. Fred McMahan of Clymer, Pa., and William McMahan, Detroit, both brothers of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A reception was held in the Church social hall immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. McMahan was graduated from Stow High School in 1958, and is now employed by Ohio Edison Co. Her husband, a graduate of Clymer High School, attended Indiana State Teachers College, and is now employed by A & P Co. They are presently living in Akron but expect to move to Stow shortly.

The Mel Thomases of Williamson Rd. are flying high these days...first daughter Judy was elected Homecoming Queen, then Marge, her mother, won a terrific color TV set at Krogers!

THE STUDENT BODY VS THE FOOTBALL TEAM

Last week at school I was busy as a beaver collecting peoples' opinions and pestering folks for information concerning Stow High's football team. I received ideas from freshmen, seniors, cheerleaders, teachers, coaches, and football players themselves. I found many conflicts of ideas. Here are the comments, pro and con:

One person definitely believes our team has more spirit this year. A second person chimed in and said "Yeh! Our team has spirit up until Friday night!

Then what happens no one understands."

Are they afraid? They are "Young and green" some people comment. The retort is - "How has Stow's team managed to be 'young and green' for the last ten years?"

One person when asked his views on the football team said, "It's one of the best teams we've had if we'd just get that support behind them. Others think just the opposite. "We had the largest attendance for the first home game with Norton than ever in the history of Stow. Doesn't that show everyone is behind out players?"

Some people are proud of our team's "spirit and will to win". Others are disgusted with the outward appearance of a "defeatist attitude" (which was mentioned by many people I talked to) "They play well until the score is against 'em".

When asked if they are going to win - "We're gonna try"... "Don't know - hope so," and/or a shrug of the shoulders are common answers. If, instead, we'd get a positive "Yes! We're going to beat the living daylight out of them"! We might go somewhere!

A very good reason for defeat so far this year is lack of a program that starts to train our football players in the seventh grade. Some of our seniors have had only five weeks experience and they are playing teams with five years experience.

I started many discussions among people and heard vast and detailed reports of how hard our team members hit that tackle dummy, how hard they work, and how tough they are. We know every fellow on that team is respected and well liked. The last thing the student body would want to do is hurt their feelings with their comments printed here.

The least anyone can do is go to the games and yell. We must really stick with our team always and back them in every way! We can attend Pep Club meetings and contribute our time and money to the Booster Club and the Athletic Fund.

Adults can help students by providing transportation to away games. We must give the team the support and recognition they deserve for the difficult job they are doing.

One of our teachers had this to say. "If every member of this team of ours would make up its mind that - 'We are going to win!' - we WOULD win!!" Someone then said if they win one game and realize it could be done, they would be certain to win.

Ellet and Tallmadge will NOT get by Stow with a victory this year. Most people realize that we have fought the toughest teams in the league already. The easier ones are just now coming up!

A lot of people that were asked "What's good or bad in your opinion with our football team?" and "What can we do to help them?" clapped their hand over their mouth shamefully and mumbled "I've only seen it play once this year." (this happened several times) Some characters flapped their tongue in the air so it sounded like a motorboat when asked their views. Folks like these we don't need. It is they that ruin our team.

I'd like to hear what YOU have to say. If you think that the people that contributed to this article are "all wet"--let me know!

Next week: The Football Team vs. the Student Body.

Selected Stow Seniors Attend University Classes

Five academically talented Stow High seniors are attending Akron University this year for one class, under a program financed in part by the Fund for the Advancement of Education.

Phillip Long, Jim Wilson, Dorothy Braden, Marge Worcester and Don Murfin are excused from the high school's eighth period so they can get to their college freshman classes. They are taking one course each, English,

Sports

by Kert Koski

The Stow Bulldogs were the victims of a Spartan Homecoming game last Friday night. The Springfield Spartans scored four times for a win of 26 - 0. The Bulldogs are now winless in four starts.

Springfield started right off by scoring in the first quarter. They scored twice in the second quarter to leave the field at halftime with a 20 - 0 lead. After the intermission, the two teams evenly fought one another until a Spartan pass clicked for their fourth and final T.D.

Although the score was not favorable, the Bulldogs played better football. They just had trouble in stopping the long run. During the game the Spartans earned 14 first downs compared to Stow's 13 first downs.

Sophomore quarterback Kip Koski took to the air frequently during the night. He completed 10 out of the 22 passes. Dave Ryan and Bill Westgate, Stow's offensive ends, did a fine job on the receiving end of the pigskin. Halfback Ralph Richardson ran hard for the Bulldogs during the 48 minutes while Captain Lynn Jackson at guard did a very impressive job at both offense and defense.

Next Friday, the boys from down the road come to Stow. Ellet will try to be wrecking our homecoming just as we wrecked theirs last year. The game should be a close one all the way. Judy Thomas, the 1960 Homecoming Queen, will be crowned at halftime. Let's have everyone back our team by coming to see Stow win their first game this year.

TRAVELING JAYCEES

Richard Phillips, I., president of Stow Jaycees, being welcomed by Jack Rayment, president of Ohio Jaycees, at the September all-state meeting at the Deshler Hilton Hotel, Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Phillips, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schmidt, attended the September all-state meeting of Ohio Jaycees in Columbus recently. Before getting down to business, the 1300 Jaycees present attended the Ohio State-SMU football game.

Dick and Dan attended local officers' forums, concerning improving chapters and communities, and a Trustees meeting where they represented Stow. Their wives attended the wives' forums regarding leadership and business, after which all attended a dance held at the Hilton.

Sunday after church, a forum was held on general public relations, then smaller sections discussed other projects such as: Americanism, chapter development, Christmas and religious activities, community development, health, welfare and safety, international relations, national conventions, personnel, public affairs, records and recognition, rural-urban affairs, sports and youth activities, safe driving road-e-o, and ways and means.

These meetings are held every other month in different cities throughout the state, for members to learn personal as well as chapter development.

Jaycees contributions to their communities are studied. "It is with the combined efforts of the Jaycees and other organizations in Stow that we will improve this community and make it a finer place to live and a wonderful place for our children to grow", says President Phillips.

HOLY FAMILY OPEN HOUSE

HOW MUCH IS A PRESCRIPTION WORTH?

About half of them cost $2 or less, the average price of all of them is about $3.50 and of course some of them are $5 or more.

But, how do you really estimate the value of the modern medicines that are helping add many years to almost every life? How much is a three day cure for pneumonia worth, or almost immediate relief from a kidney infection? When you are sick, get a prescription from your physician. You get well quicker and save both time and money.
