

Cross - Currents

By Robert L. Butler

One of the most difficult problems in fulfilling the role of a good citizen within a democratic community is the gaining of information necessary to make intelligent decisions concerning management and problems of the community. (By community, I refer to either the local, state, or national community.) These decisions go far beyond intelligent choices at the polls. They relate to the year 'round choices and decisions concerning regular operating procedures at these various community levels.

Casting a vote for a representative at election time does not negate the individual's responsibility to make his views and decisions known to this representative during his term of office. Thus the representative's performance can be guided by the thinking of his constituents, whose will the representative is supposed to reflect.

This decision-making prerogative of the individual, to be effective, must be based on adequate information concerning the problem or issue. Now it is self-evident that the majority of us cannot spend the major portion of our time reading newspapers, magazines, and periodicals as well as attending meetings and discussions in order to gain the necessary background for these decisions. Earning a living limits one's time for such activities. Making certain television remains at a pre-teen level also limits one's available time.

Yet if our democratic institutions are to function properly, each individual must make what he feels is the most intelligent decision at the time. Thus the decision of the majority can be considered the best or right decision.

From the viewpoint of practicality, if we are to gain necessary information, we must rely on authorities or experts. We cannot check on the truth of each newspaper article or news broadcast. We cannot validate each statement of a teacher, scientist, etc. Thus our problem becomes: what is authoritative? - who is an expert? We can check the education and experience of the individual or medium in doubt. We can discuss his qualifications with others in order to determine whether there is general agreement about these qualifications. We can check past performance. Attitude is important. The recommendations or statements of the true expert are never dogmatic. His conclusions are cautious. His authority is not flaunted before others.

Elected officials are not necessarily experts because they have received the most votes. Beware of the individual who claims, "I am an expert because I say that I am an expert." He's probably been going in circles for a long time.

Council Action

Council President, Grover Shuman presented our council members with a letter at the regular council meeting held Oct. 27 requesting formal action on a new Town Hall. This letter stated that the present Town Hall is obsolete, undersized and was going to require extensive maintenance. The Director of Public Service was instructed to submit a report by Nov. 24 giving recommendations on floor space requirements and facilities which would be needed in the new Town Hall. Mr. Jensen was also directed to submit at the same time recommendations on available sites for the new Town Hall.

A public hearing was scheduled for Dec. 8 at 7:30 p.m. by council on the ordinance read to council which will reclassify the Trego property south of the Stowaway to Marhoffer Rd. from the present R-2 residential zoning to B-1 commercial zoning.

Mayor Monteith's proclamation declaring the week of Nov. 6 through Nov. 12 as American Education Week was heard by council with pleasure. Council joined the Mayor in urging all of our citizens to take opportunity of this week to visit our schools and attend the special programs which have been arranged for this occasion.

Council authorized Director of Public Service Jensen the power to approve plans submitted to him which are in complete compliance with the Platting Ordinance to prevent undue delay waiting for council approval. Mr. Jensen was also authorized to approve subdivisions of less than five lots which would not

Turkey Shoot Saturday

Stow JayCees are holding a Turkey Shoot at Silver Springs Park, Saturday, Nov. 5, at 11 a.m. Prizes will be dressed turkeys, and refreshments will be served at the shoot. JayCees provide the shells, shooters must bring their own guns.

Proceeds from this activity will be used for a Christmas party for underprivileged children.

Twins For Librarian

Twins were born prematurely Sunday, Oct. 30 to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Saviers, (she's our Stow librarian), 1764 25th St., Cuyahoga Falls. The new little ones a boy, 3 lbs and a girl, 2½ lbs, were reported "holding their own" at Akron General Hospital on Tuesday morning. Both are in incubators.

require new roads or facilities.

Other action by council approved the appointment of Paul F. Long as a regular patrolman for the Police Department. Patrolman Long has served his six month probationary period.

Mr. Eugene Peddle of the Board of Zoning Appeals suggested for council discussion the possible adoption of the State of Ohio Building Code for Commercial construction and of the Summit County Building Code for one, two and three unit dwellings. Mr. Peddle pointed out several variances between the State Code and the Stow Code and how it could be beneficial to standardize our Building Code with a State approved Code. This matter was referred to the Planning Committee for study.

Rev. Downing Honored

Rev. Kenneth L. Downing, 3377 Margaret St., Stow, Executive Director of Goodwill Industries of Akron, was honored by an award "In recognition of high achievement in his chosen field of endeavor and devotion to the ideals of his Alma Mater", Friday, Oct. 14, in Lincoln, Neb.

City or County ?

The question of remaining in the Summit County School system or becoming a city school system is one now being considered by the Stow Board of Education.

The decision must be made by November 15, a two-week extended deadline and requires careful study.

Within the county system, Stow schools are provided with special services such as psychological consultants, supervisory services for elementary and high schools, and record keeping, printing and clerical help, which are now

Reader Arch Cupler caught this picture of a burning tar-distributor truck a few minutes after the explosion startled him in his home at 1359 Housely Rd. on Oct. 21. He took the shot with a camera about the size of a cigaret lighter. Stow Fire Department reported the truck caught fire on Commerce Drive where the new Butler Brothers warehouse is nearing completion. There were no injuries.

Dinner For Simmons

The campaign to elect Dawson V. Simmons, former Stowite, to the office of State Representative, enters its final phase with a spaghetti dinner.

Friends and supporters of Simmons are invited to the dinner to be held at the Jr. Order of Mechanics Hall at 158 Brittain Rd., near the new East High School on Sat., Nov. 5 from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Tickets are $1.25 each with profits going to pay for campaign expenses.

Campaign chairman, Curt Sarff, 2350 Lynnwood Dr., expressed confidence that Simmons will be elected and stresses the importance of success with the spaghetti dinner as a fund raising method rather than asking for further donations.

Other Stowites assisting in the campaign are George Kirkendall, who will present feats of magic as entertainment at the dinner, and Warren Thomas, chairman of the committee on erection of lawn signs.

paid for to the county on a per pupil basis.

As a city system, some of these services must be purchased or contracted for individually; they are now shared with 13 other county school systems. State Foundation funds would provide assistance in some others of the services.

The present contract with Summit County runs till Jan. 1, which means Stow might have difficulty finding psychological and supervisory services until the end of the present school year, if they decide to change.

According to Mrs. Burgess, Board of Education Clerk, the most expensive part of the change would come in the record keeping, printing and clerical increases.

From the Editor:

YES TO CHILD WELFARE

We cannot urge you strongly enough to vote YES for the Child Welfare Levy. This will be Issue #2 on the ballot and will provide for 1.25 mills, or 12½¢ for every $100 of tax valuation, costing an average taxpayer less than 2¢ a day.

The Child Welfare Board provides the ONLY public, county-wide child welfare service, regardless of race, religion or creed, and is entirely supported by these county taxes. No money is received from the State nor from the United Fund.

It must be passed! We cannot ignore or neglect dependent, homeless and orphaned children!

YES TO ROADS LEVY

We also urge passage of a tax levy more obviously close to home - calling for renewal of 1.4 mills and an increase of .6 mills for current expenses for repair and maintenance of Stow streets and highways.

This .6 mill increase is not actually an increase in taxes, but part of a .9 mill levy which expired last year but still is producing funds for 1960.

Actually, passage of the levy will leave Stowites with a reduction of 30¢ per $1000 valuation under last years taxes.

It is inconceivable that when we have a new Service Director, Kenneth Jensen, a highly qualified engineer with definite plans for our roads, that we might cut him off without funds to fulfill the plans.

Vote YES for the Stow road levy.

Editor, Stow Press:

Your paper has contained two recent references to a statement I made at a Board of Education meeting on the role of the layman in educational planning. Because this issue is important in a democratic society, I ask for an opportunity to clarify the point.

First, we are all laymen with respect to all but our own professions, and no intelligent person should take offense at the term.

Second, my remarks were in objection to a proposal to establish committees from the public to assist or advise in the planning of school affairs, including curriculum and buildings. I do not, for reasons which are explained below, think that laymen, including board members, should participate in these types of school planning. They should do what the board does in the hiring of teachers, accept or reject the recommendations of the professional administrator, the executive head.

The layman's handicap is the lack of awareness of all the facts and the lack of understanding of the interrelationships among all the facts that must properly be considered in any educational planning. The layman who is a board member depends upon the professional staff to formulate plans, to explain them, to organize and cite the relevant facts, to justify the plans based on these facts. Then he either accepts the recommendation or rejects it. To add any more non-professional voices to the planning process would serve to reduce the efficiency with which the professionals can accomplish an already staggering amount of work.

What can the public at large do, then, to retain the ultimate control over education? This control, vital to a democratic society, must be vigorously exercised. To exercise it, the interested individual should utilize fully the existing avenues of action. First, he should

by Frank Green

I like Politics as I do chess, bridge and croquet. It is an interesting game whether you take a hand or watch from the side lines.

I was 21 Dec. 7, 1889, and voted for McKinley for president. I was working in Cleveland in the fall of 1889. The Public Square at noon was crowded with people listening to noisy orators talking for Bryan and free silver. It looked like Bryan MUST win, but the persuading argument, "A full dinner bucket" prevailed, and McKinley won easily.

Since then I have voted at every election - 14 times in all. I am a Republican from Way Back When, but did vote for Teddy Roosevelt on the Bull Moose ticket in 1912. (Incidentally I would like to vote for him or someone like him in the coming election.)

I have had the pleasure of shaking hands with 3 men who became president; Garfield, Theodore Roosevelt and William McKinley.

James A. Garfield was a teacher and the president of Hiram College when my father attended school there. Father graduated in 1860. Garfield was elected president of the U. S. in 1880. I was 12 years old. Of course my father was very much interested in getting his old teacher elected. He took me to Warren to a monster political rally. He introduced me to Mr. Garfield. That big bearded man grasped my hand warmly and said, "Hello, young Green". Like thousands of others I went to Canton to hear McKinley talk from his front porch.

Father was a quiet dignified man, but when he came home from Kenton election night, about attend board meetings, ask necessary questions to develop understanding of the decisions being made. Second, he should become an active PTA member and insist that this institution keep itself fully and constantly informed about the educational system. Third, he should take up with the board, the superintendent, the principal, or the teacher any question that arises concerning the present and future education of his or his neighbor's children, and he should insist upon having an understandable and forthright answer. (This does not mean that he must always be pleased with the answer.)

As a matter of fact, this is the way we should behave toward

2 a.m. with the news that Garfield was elected, he kicked his hat and yelled like an Indian.

Theodore Roosevelt spoke in Akron at a Republican meeting and I was on the committee to welcome him. When we shook hands he said with that toothy grin of his, "I am delighted to meet you, Mr. Green."

Some of the political campaigns have been more exciting to me than others, but I got enjoyment from all of them, and there are plenty of comical and some humiliating stories I still remember.

I do not vote a straight ticket. There are always some Democrats I like best.

Listen to this: I have always voted for anyone from Stow asking for office, regardless of the ticket. So I ask all of you to vote for Dawson Simmons for State Representative. He is a nice Stow boy. Your child may run for office sometime - it will please you to have your neighbors vote for him - or her!

(Ed. note: We do not agree that anyone who happened to come from Stow would be the best candidate for office; however in this case, Dawson Simmons seems highly qualified, and will have our vote, too!)

any professional group. When a physician issues you a prescription, you should ask him what is in it, what it will do, how much it will cost, what other prescriptions will do the same thing, what they will cost, and what chances exist for relieving your condition without any prescription at all. But you should not attempt to tell him how to interpret your symptoms.

Sunday Marks Fiftieth

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Korte, 2213 E. Arndale Rd., will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, Nov. 6, with an open house to be held in the Zion Lutheran School hall in Akron, from 2 to 5 p.m.

The Kortes met at a wedding, were married in Fort Wayne, Ind., moved to Akron and then to Stow 34 years ago. They raised three children here; Mrs. Lucille Morse, now of Burbank, Cal., Mrs. Edith Kasle of Parma, and Carl, now minister of Calvary Lutheran Church at Brookings, S. Dakota. To date there are five grandchildren. The whole family is planning this special anniversary party and will be here to help celebrate.

Mr. Korte is retired from Steel Products of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., but says he is busier in retirement than he was when employed. He keeps a small vegetable garden, flower beds and a 5 acre farm where he and Mrs. Korte work together raising chickens. (300 at the last count.) The egg business is a job Mrs. Korte would be lost without as she serves many friends and neighbors.

Both are active in church affairs and are thankful for good health. Mr. Korte offers this bit of advice to all newly married couples: "Keep busy, place all cares in God and depend upon His grace and mercies."

FIFTY ATTEND 1950 STOW CLASS BANQUET

A grand time was had by all those who attended the 1950 Stow High Class reunion banquet celebration, held Oct. 22 at the Brown Derby Restaurant in Akron.

The couple awarded the prize for coming the farthest distance, were Mr. and Mrs. John Young, from Batavia, Ill.; Don Cook walked away with the award for the least hair; Mrs. Jack Gordon measured the smallest waist; the couple married the shortest time, were Mr. and Mrs. Neil Nighman, three years, and the mothers with the most children were Mrs. Stanley Klatka, with 6 children, and Mrs. Charles Moran, with 5.

Christmas Shopping Begins at Bazaar

Christmas shopping, grocery specialties, and a complete barbecued spareribs or roast beef dinner are going to be available at the First Christian Church of Stow's Town & Country Bazaar on Wednesday, Nov. 16, from 3 p.m. till closing.

The first such bazaar in five years, will feature a great variety of booths, including a Ceramics and Hobby Shop, managed by Mrs. Harry Foster and Mrs. Theodore Cord; Sewing and Fancy Work, Mrs. R. R. Cundiff; Country Kitchen, Mrs. D. R. Shuster; Flower Shop & Christmas Decorations, Mrs. Kenneth Spear and Mrs. James Anderson; Baked Goods, Mrs. James Swartout.

Country Kitchen will feature herb vinegar, honey-in-the-comb, and delectable food products not generally available. The Ceramic and Hobby Shop will feature specially made ceramic items produced by a group of workers for this event. Doll clothes, aprons, pillow cases, and other fancy work will be on sale, as well as the usual unusually delicious homemade baked goods found only at church bazaars.

For extra fun, Mrs. Harry Pfile is taking charge of a Wishing Well, Mr. Walter DePew is showing cartoons and movies, and Mrs. Harry Tobin will be supervising a Fish Pond. Popcorn will be on sale by Mrs. Tom Clarke and Candy by the Christian Youth Fellowship, who also helped by making posters announcing the bazaar.

Dinner will be served between 5 and 7 p.m., under the chairmanship of Mrs. A. J. DuChene. Mrs. Nina Parpart is handling table decorations, Mrs. William Mulvehill, tickets. Tickets are priced as follows: adults, $1.50; juniors (13 thru 18 yrs.), $1.00; child (12 and under), $.75.

The Town and Country Bazaar is being held under the auspices of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the church, who will use the proceeds to help meet their pledge for missionary work. Mrs. Dale Palmer is president of the group; Mrs. Marvin Seese is handling publicity.

Mrs. Richard Cramer, Vira Rd., is scheduled for surgery at Akron City Hospital Nov. 9.

Get well wishes are extended to "Bert" Norman, Lillian Rd., and James Tazuma, Leewood Dr., who are recovering from recent illnesses. Phil Young, Adaline Dr., is making steady progress following eye surgery Oct. 20.

Mr. and Mrs. William Biggins, 3792 Leewood Dr., will entertain six couples at an Election Party on Nov. 8.

Mrs. Ivan Glass, Adaline Dr., sixth grade teacher at Akron's Jackson School, was unable to attend the NEOTA meeting in Cleveland because of minor surgery.

Welcome New Neighbors

Hometown was Munhall, Pa. for both Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Rowe (Shirley) 4328 Maplepark Rd. who have decided to make Stow their new hometown. The Rowe family made up of Douglas (4½) and Kim (16 mos.) resided a brief six months in Cuyahoga Falls before coming to Stow. Before that Euclid, Ohio was home while Gordon finished his schooling at Western Reserve U where he graduated in the class of '59 with a BA in Music and Masters Degree in Supervisory Education. He has been associated with Boston Heights-North Hampton School district for the past 1½ years first as instrumental music teacher and since September was appointed Guidance Director. Shirley received her degree in Elementary Education at Slippery Rock, Pa.'s Teachers College in the class of 1954. She taught second grade in the Euclid School System for four years while Gordon was finishing his schooling. Gordon's musical ability has paid off in a part-time job playing clarinet and saxophone for the Chic Tesmer Dance Band. He also finds time to serve the Cuyahoga Falls St. Luke's Lutheran Church as choir director. Gordon is a member of Stow Jaycees and Shirley the J. C. Wives Club. She hopes to return to her teaching profession in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Kalman (Kal and Dee) 4342 Maplepark Rd. and their two children Craig (5) and Robin (1) came to Stow July 1 from Akron. "The nicest thing that ever happened to us (Besides our children) was our moving to Stow." These are Kal's sentiments and we are happy to pass them along. Kal is a buyer in the purchasing dept. of Goodyear Aircraft Corp. where he was active on the Squadron for two years. A graduate of Ohio State U class of 1950, majoring in marketing he worked his way through college as a bartender. Now works part-time as a bartender at Nick Yanko's Restaurant where "Dee" did waitress work for ten years. She is a graduate of Cuyahoga Falls High, while Kal graduated from Akron's West High where he followed all sporting events. Enjoys golf and bowls with the Maplewood Park team. "Dee" is interested in furthering an interest in gardening through a future membership in a garden club. The Kalmans look forward to infrequent but exciting football weekends in Columbus (cheering O.S.U., of course.)

Mr. and Mrs. James Ruhlman (Joanna) 4293 N. Gilwood moved to Stow on their return from a 1½ year stint in Manila, Philippine Islands where James was sent for Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. in exports. In July he became associated with General Tire and Rubber Exports Co. Although the Ruhlman's are originally from Indiana they made their home in Akron before being sent out of the country.

Visiting this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Spriggel, Munroe Falls Ave., were William F. Spriggel, from Portland, Oregon and Mr. and Mrs. George Spriggel, from Boise, Idaho.

Members of the Board of the Methodist Church will meet Fri., Nov. 4, at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Herbert Lauer, 224 Munroe Falls Ave.

Don't forget the Spaghetti Supper to be held at the Village Hall Sat., Nov. 12, from 4 till 8. Those wishing tickets contact ticket Chairman, Mrs. Earl Wilson, OV 8-5501. Adults, $1.25, and children under 12, 60¢. Proceeds go into the Methodist Church Building Fund. Chairman for the affair will be Mrs. David Miller. Aprons may also be purchased.

Deepest sympathy to two Village families on the recent deaths in their immediate family: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Forshey, 286 Hunter St. Mr. Forshey's father was buried in Cuyahoga Falls Oct. 25, and Jay Zahler, father of Ernest Zahler, S. River Rd., passed away the same day.

Happy wedding anniversary celebration to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cueni, Lindsey Rd., who will celebrate their 17th anniversary Nov. 6. Mrs. Cueni will also observe her birthday on Nov. 8.

Two Stow High School juniors will celebrate their 16th birthdays the same week. James Chapman, son of the James Chapmans, 3527 Orchard Dr., Stow, on Nov. 3, and Charles Segner, 448 N. Main St., Munroe Falls, on Nov. 7.

$135.16 was received from sales tax stamps by the Methodist Sunday School, reported by School Supt., Mrs. Ernest Green.

A farewell supper was held honoring Rev. and Mrs. George Mayer, at the Town Hall, Nov. 2. Rev. Gilbert Roberts, of Cuyahoga Falls is now the pastor at the Munroe Falls Methodist Church.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, will meet at the Town Hall, Wed., Nov. 9, at 7:30. Mrs. William Shakespeare and Mrs. David Miller will be hostesses.

BULLDOGS WIN OVER KENT, 18-8

by

Kert Koski

The Stow Bulldogs finally found victory this season as they over powered Kent State High last Thursday night at Highland School by a score of 18-8.

After a scoreless first half, the Bulldogs marched down the field to T.D. land. Koski capped the drive by connecting with Bill Westgate in the end zone on a 25 yard pass play. The conversion failed.

"Captain Lynn Jackson did a terrific job during the entire game on both offense and defense," quoted coach Fortner. "He got more than 16 tackles and threw the key trap blocks for the long runs." Quarterbacks Kip Koski and Larry Kerr did a fine job in maneuvering the club during the evening. Following the first T. D., the Bulldogs marched for their fifth touchdown of the season. Tremendous efforts by halfbacks Richardson and Sandercox and fullback Settle, the Bulldogs set up another T. D. Koski plunged the final yard for the T. D. The conversion failed.

Coming back strongly, Kent scored on a five yard run. Their two point conversion was successful, making the score 12-8, in favor of the Bulldogs.

After their T. D., Kent tried an on-sides kick-off, which almost gave Kent possession of the ball. But two plays later, the Stow "horse", Sandercox, broke away on a 40-yard gallop to sew up the Bulldog's first victory. Sandercox and Richardson were running exceptionally well during the entire game. Again the conversion failed.

While Kent was again threatening, time ran out and Stow ended up on top with an 18-8 victory over Kent State.

Coach Dick Fortner stated "We finally got a taste of victory, now perhaps we know what we are playing for. I think Stow will be victorious in the two games we have remaining."

Next week - the Coventry Comets come to Stow on Friday night. The Bulldogs have been looking forward to this game since last season. It seems as though they have a score to settle. Since the Bulldogs have been progressively gaining power all year, perhaps they can upset this Coventry team.

Several hundred guests are expected Saturday evening, Nov. 5, in the Cuyahoga Falls Masonic Temple for the second annual Military Ball with Cuyahoga Falls Commandery No. 83, Knights Templar as host.

Commandery's host and hostess will be Eminent Commander and Mrs. Rudolph F. Beyer. Beyer has assigned Past Commander Leon C. Murfin and Mrs. Murfin as general chairman. Other Sir Knights and their ladies on his committee are, George D. Stein, Roland Farwell and R. F. Beyer.

The program will include dinner at 6:30, entertainment (orchestra and quartet) 8:00, a grand military march at 8:45 and ballroom dancing until 11:45 p.m.

Sir Knights and their ladies heading other committees are: Glenn Goff, ballroom decorations; Fred Plappert, table decorations; Glenn Griffiths and Reginald Anderson, tickets and printing; John B. Calvert, dinner; James Evans, favors, and Francis H. Cox, newspaper publicity.

There will be cards in the upstairs dining room with Sir Knight and Mrs. James Kincaid in charge.

K of C Initiate

Initiated into Stow Knights of Columbus Council on Sunday, Oct. 16, were Basil Woodman, Robert Wise, Michael Thoner, Charles Dolce and John Fisher, all of Stow. The group heard E. L. Powell of Ohio Bell Telephone Co. speak at a meeting Oct. 25 on "The Bell System and Continental Defense" telling of the manner in which the telephone industry is involved in the defense of North America.

HIGH WAYS

by Terry Moore

First off, I think everyone should do sixteen rahs for the "whole darn team", and a couple of "coach rahs" for the wonderful effort shown Thursday night when our boys won. I hope you high school students make a point of speaking to the team members and telling them thanks for such a swell job!

Thurs. night, 40 girls spent doing everything but slumbering at at the home of the J. Sam Biedlers. There Mary and Karen were hostesses to Stowites and Kent Staters. The food may have dwindled slightly but only after a steady onrush of unexpected (but welcome) party crashers.

Sue Cook had a slumber party too. Thirteen sophomore girls talked and giggled until six-thirty Friday morning.

FTA Club has been doing real well in their candy apple sales at noontime. Dorothy Braden has put a lot of time in lining students up to sell the candy and in keeping the money straight. Carol Clark took time out several times to go to the shop in Akron and get the candy.

Mr. Dominic was the speaker at a night meeting of this club recently. He held the Future Teachers spell bound and everyone went away from the meeting feeling they had learned something new.

Going right along with the teachers to the North Eastern Ohio Teachers Association meeting last Fri. were FTA's Nancy Rearick, Mibs Blocki, and Tom Van Brunt, to usher on the main floor of the public auditorium.

Connie Coruron moved to California. She was our Varsity Cheerleader Sub, and will be much missed in days to come. Some of our friends had a surprise party for her a week ago Fri. night. Teen-age friends of Connie completely filled the picturesque home of the Mertze J. Koski's. Empty pop bottles were everywhere and everyone had lots to eat. The last guests went home at 3:30!

Sr. Y-Teens took children from the Akron Childrens Home trick-or-treating Monday night. Who enjoyed it most - the seniors or the little kids?

Football movies of the game were shown Tuesday night at 7:30 in the high school auditorium.

As soon as school started Wed., the Student Council had an assembly hall lined up for

Woodland PTA

Woodland P.T.A. will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 3, in the school auditorium.

At 8 o'clock the teachers will hold twenty minute sessions for the parents to explain what is expected of their child. They will also take this opportunity to answer any questions the parents have regarding their child. Principal Paul Coleman will explain the Reading Program in the auditorium one session only. Due to overcrowded conditions in the school there will be only limited baby sitting facilities.

Mrs. Watters first grade room won the Membership drive contest. Mrs. Pardee's second grade came in second.

Any man interested in being a Scoutmaster please contact John Rasmussen - OV 8-4371.

Make Christmas Decorations

Stow Home and Garden Club meets tonight, Nov. 3, at the home of Mrs. Louis Cheslock, where the hostess and Mrs. Charles Williams will give a demonstration of making styrofoam Christmas decorations. After this date, the finished decorations will be on display at Ben Franklin Store in the Stow Plaza.
